NORWAY VICINITY

Hereafter the Norway Water Co. will send out their bills every three months instead of every six months. This change has been made on suggestion of a large number of their customers.

Eugene N. Swett reports that Mrs. Hilda L. Ives of Portland has declined the call to Norway Congregational Church because of family conditions which make it inadvisable to leave Portland. The committee is in touch with several candidates who may be heard in the near future.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Carrie Swett, Wednesday, April 13, at 2.45 P. M. Program is Roll Call. Quotations from favorite poets. Discussion, "Automobiles, a benefit or a menace?" Mrs. Mary Cole, Mrs. Gertrude Libby.

"I saw Saturn last night and the rings," thus said Steve Cummings as we met in the street the other morning.

Edward D. Packard is waiting impatiently for the ground to settle, when he intends to put in a foundation and basement for a seven room bungalow style house on Pleasant Street. A garage was built there last summer and nothing more happened, owing to many delays. The carpenter work will be started early as possible and the house completed before mid-summer, if plans mature.

Mrs. Jane Walker, who has made her home with Dr. E. Calvin Walker for several years, celebrated her 92nd birthday on Saturday. A number of relatives were present for the day and friends called to extend good wishes. A large birthday cake was baked for the occasion. Mrs. Walker is in fair health and her mind is unusually clear.

"Haven't taken any solid food for 14 weeks last Tuesday," thus said E. A. Greenleaf the other day. He apparently believes it, as he folded his loose waistcoat around his shrunken form.

Howard Potter, civil engineer, laid out the drainage system on Whitman and Pearl Streets, Monday. The survey commenced at a point on Whitman street and extended down Pearl street, connecting with Cottage Street drain opposite the depot. Distance is 690 feet with $1,200 appropriated at the last annual town meeting for the job. Six or eight catch basins will be placed where most needed. This pipe system should settle one of the highway commissioner's toughest problems, that is, where there is flat land without natural drainage.

Charles A. Frost visited in the vicinity of Boston, for several days and returned home, Thursday evening.

Charles Bradford's new sign "Norway Laundry" is in place on the, Bradford block. The sign is 22 feet long with the lettering in gold leaf, the work of Geo. H. Bennett.

Joseph Lafrance is working in Walter Lack's meat market.

Mrs. A. J. McAllister, Alpine street, have a rose bush in bloom at her home. Late in the fall she set a small branch in a flower pot with other indoor plants. The spray now stands eighteen inches in height and capped with a large, dark red blossom of great fragrance. Every bloom is the variety and while an outdoor shrub, it is working overtime under home conditions.

Charles Whittemore is employed at R. C. Bunham's Radio Shop as repairman and trouble shooter.

Dowel business is booming at the Cummings mill with additional wood working machinery installed and a good sized crew employed.

A. J. McAlister, superintendent at the C. B. Cummings Sons Co. dowel mill has been sick with the flu for three weeks and just getting out. His son Lewis McAlister is at the Maine General Hospital, Portland, under treatment for lung trouble resulting from bronchitis and influenza. He had been ill at home several weeks before going to the hospital.

Miss Marita Cushman is home from Wheaton College for a week's vacation.

Mrs. A. L. Clark, Mrs. Scott Kilborn and Mrs. W. L. Libby attended the style show at Lewiston, last week.

Henry Cullinan is home for ten days during the recess at Bates College.

Miss Eleanor Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Smith, is on a trip to Washington, D. C. with her class at Bates College.

Philip Greenleaf is home from Kent's Hill for ten days vacation.

Kenneth Dullea is home from the hospital where he was under observation for intestinal trouble and expects to return to the hospital in a week or so.

The picture of Representative Glenn R. McIntire's deer taken by a camera on the roadside has gone the rounds of the Syndicate life in the papers. George Leavitt of Philadelphia, sends me a copy of the Evening Bulletin containing it and it has appeared in many other papers.

The Veranda Club will hold its next regular meeting, the evening of Tuesday, April 12th, and Mrs. Laura Everett, Water Street, will entertain at her home. It is hoped there will be a large attendance.

Miss Clye Ricker, R. N., from the Maine Baby Saving Society was in town the past week to conduct a free baby clinic, and fourteen children were given free examination by the local physicians. Among these, six were new cases. Several previous examinations where trouble was found were reported as doing well.

House cleaning comes once a year! No, twice in 12 months. Not that exactly, but every so often. We have old papers to put under carpets and "Kwik-Kleen" for soiled places. You should use them.

At the Norway Municipal Court room on the evening of April 1st, at 7:30, will be election of officers and report of the treasurer of the Fish and Game Association. Everyone is invited, regardless of membership.

Freeman Richardson, son of the late Columbus Richardson of this town, was here over Sunday. He has been in Auburn for the past twenty-two years, though has often visited the home town. He called at the Wearies and reviewed some of the happy days spent at Sunset Camp in Greenwood, when years were young and the trout bit.

Lake Temple Pythian Sisters hold their regular meeting, Tuesday evening, April 5, when there will be a full rehearsal after the business session. There is considerable work expected at future meetings.

Thomas Huston of Portland was in town, Tuesday, on business.

Bowling

Forty string matches are the popular thing at Parrin's Alleys and several combinations are working toward fairly high scores. Paul Boynton is the high marksman at present with a record of 133 for single and 1099 in a grand total for ten strings.

This mark was hung up in a match where Boynton and Bill Nye topped Giles George and Delmont by a large margin. Summary follows:

Boynton
Bill Nye	955
Total	2054
George	856
Delmont	921
Total	1777

Some 97 pins separated the leaders in one other match bowled Thursday evening. "Ham" Greenleaf and Boynton won over Olmstead and Bill Nye in a fast moving spree. Boynton made the highest string with 119 while Olmstead the runner-up, closed in with 118 for his final shot. The score:

Ham	905
Boynton	1006
Total	1911
Olmstead	888
Bill Nye	931
Total	1814

A red hot encounter was the program on Monday evening, when Jack Burgess and Boynton snatched victory from Delmont and Foss on a narrow margin of 11 pins. Burgess jumped into the 130 class in the ninth string and Foss made second place with 117 in the sixth session. The leaders captured the first and second sheets, containing six strings, but lost the last four by 35 pins and escaped on a narrow margin. Summary:

Burgess	293	305	315	79—	992
Boynton	281	305	264	96—	946
Totals	574	610	579	175—	1938
Delmont	286	266	307	97—	956
Foss	275	311	290	95—	971
Totals	561	577	597	192—	1927

A lively match went merrily at Parrin's on Tuesday evening when Bl'k. Smith and Bill Nye won over Vancourt and Foss with a lead of 28 pins. The game was put on ice during the first six strings, after that stage Henry Van and partner held up with a good run, closing the last four strings in comfortable speed. Henry Van bowled the highest strings with 111 and 109. Bill Nye made 108 for his best effort, making second place. Score follows:

Blk. Smith	251	301	284	103—	939
Bill Nye	276	295	294	85—	950
	527	596	578	188—	1889
Vancourt	251	303	282	95—	931
Foss	260	282	294	94—	930
	511	585	576	189—	1861

ATHLETIC FIELD QUESTION STILL PENDING

An adjourned meeting of the Norway Playground Athletic Association was held at Legion Hall, Monday evening and committees reported their investigation.

Frank E. Decoster delegated to look over the high school lot, stated a preliminary survey by Howard Potter, civil engineer, indicated that grading could be done for less than $2,000 and the lot put in shape for that sum. Mr. Decoster believed additional land would be necessary if baseball and football were to be played there. He was authorized to measure and survey the lot for definite figures of cost, and find out what adjoining land would be necessary.

L. H. Cushman reported his findings in regard to Joshua Yeaton's field, opposite the tourist camp ground on the Oxford road. The field may be leased for $150 per year. No action was taken.

Principal George Lord reported progress in securing equipment for the children's playground to be located in the rear of the high school building.

The matter was discussed freely and other more or less desirable locations were considered. The Whitcomb field on Orchard Street looked good for major sports, it is understood the grounds may be leased from time to time at a modest figure. President Percy H. Nevers appointed L. H. Cushman, F. E. Decoster and Elmer Packard a committee to round up the facts on lots in question and report at the next meeting.

Town baseball was taken up and a team will be organized. The matter was continued to a meeting appointed for Monday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock, in Legion Hall. Playgrounds and baseball will be the chief tonic and all lovers of good sport are urged to attend.

George H. Bennett went to Portland, Wednesday morning, on a business and pleasure trip. He will visit his sister, Mrs. John A. Saylor, at Woodfords, and other relatives.

Main street is almost free of ice and is being cleaned by the road commissioner's crew. George Tripp will appear in about two weeks with the broom, shovel a d push cart for the summer campaign.

Loren B. Merrill, mineralogist and gem cutter of Paris, is rigging up a "stiff-legged derrick" to be used this season in mineral mining operations in Buckfield.

Don Seitz is busy and overworked in New York. Can't spare time to come to Maine in mud-time, when the smelts, with sap and maple sugar, are running. Poor boy! He is engaged in writing a history of the two newspaper Bennetts.

Obituary

Mrs. L. Myrtilla (Wardwell) White

Mrs. Lenora Myrtilla, widow of Henry White, a native of Oxford, Maine, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert B. McQuesten, 104 High Street, North Andover, Mass., following a long period of ill health. She was confined to her bed but a short time previous to her death, however, having been able to keep busy around the home nearly to the last.

She was the first of the two sons and three daughters of William F. and Sarah P. Wardwell, all of whom are either related or known to a large number of people in and about Oxford, to pass away. Death came in her 65th year as she was born on Greeley Hill, October 23, 1862. Her early education was obtained in the town schools of Oxford which she attended during the period that Dr. J. D. Holt was principal. All through her life she loved flowers and was happiest when busy in her garden.

On August 11th, 1881, she married Henry White in Norway, Maine. Rev. Mr. Wiswell, then a pastor of Norway, performed the ceremony, following which she returned to live in Welchville where her husband, who died four years ago last December, was an overseer in the woolen mill which burned some 35 years ago.

Soon after the Libby plant was destroyed by fire, she moved with her husband and two children to North Andover, Mass., and continued to live there up to the time of her death. Those of her immediate family who survive are a son, Merle H. White of New York City, and a daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Lenora, wife of Herbert E. McQuesten, with whom she made her home.

There are also two grand children, Virginia Pearl White of New York City, and Harriet White McQuesten of North Andover. Brothers and sisters who survive are William Llewellyn Wardwell of Reading, Mass., and Leander F. Wardwell of Welchville, Mrs. Dora M., wife of Edwin C. Hanscom, and Mrs. Carrie E., widow of William E. Bumpus, both of Reading, Mass.

The funeral services on March 18th were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kendrick rector of the St. Paul's Episcopal Church, North Andover, who also read a short commital service at the grave in the West Parish cemetery, Andover, Mass. Mrs. Taylor, a contralto soloist, sang several verses of "Just As I Am", the favorite hymn of the deceased, as a part of the service at the home.

Gifts of flowers were numerous and relatives, old friends and neighbors attended, several coming from a distance.

The bearers were the two brothers, David Hearst, a nephew of Meriden, Conn., and John E. Bedell, a neighbor and family friend for a great many years.

BOXING AT LEGION HALL

Some scrappy bouts are on the boxing card, under the auspices of the American Legion in their hall, this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

"Speed" Jackson and Young Matt are headliners in the main show and a lively tilt is promised. There are three good preliminaries including one spider-weight bout of unusual interest.

The ring is on the stage, where spectators may view the whole show. All seats are the "ring-side" kind, at a price in keeping with hard times. The committee has made an effort to get a punch into these glove fights, so a quick fire argument may be expected from a bunch of cuffers in for entertainment and clean sport.

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party was given Mrs. Georgia McAllister at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Trafton, on March 9, the occasion being Mrs. McAllister's birthday. Mrs. Alfred Dyer and Mrs. McAllister were invited down for the evening and a birthday cake was presented Mrs. McAllister with numerous presents. A social evening was enjoyed by all. Those present were Mrs. Alfred Dyer, Mrs. McAllister, Edith McAllister, Mrs. Carl Gammon, Mrs. Clyde Corey and Isabelle Corey, the hostess, Mrs. Trafton, Mr. Trafton, and little Edward.

NORWAY WOMEN'S CLUB

The anual meeting of the Norway Women's Club will be held at Community Hall, Tuesday afternoon, April 5th, at 3 o'clock. The election of officers for the coming year takes place at this meeting, after which tea will be served by the Hospitality Committee.

WILL MAKE WOODEN NOVELTIES

It is understood that the Cummings & Sons Co. factory will make wooden novelties, in addition to their extensive dowel business, and a number of machines are already installed for that line.

There was a banquet at Kilgore's restaurant Wednesday night for the boys and girls' basket ball teams. The basket ball girls had their pictures taken, Tuesday.

Practice has started for baseball and track. We hope for a successful season.

Winona Young, who is attending the University of Maine, visited school Tuesday; she is a graduate of the class of 1925.

The speaking contest will be held at the High School building, Thursday evening, March 31, Norway, Oxford, and Mechanic Falls will be entered.

Letters are to be given to the basket ball girls and boys. The girls who are to receive letters are G. McAllister, P. Cobb, H. Stineford, W. Calif, Connie Smith, D. Brown, M. Favor, S. Thurston, F. Rich. The boys are: F. Lewis, V. Ashton, A. Clark, K. Goodwin, E. Hall, C. Hutchins, C. Tucker.

The students in the agricultural classes are making out their supervised practical work record books. The work for the farm boy consists of the following forms: Project, Farm skill, approved farm practices and farm shop work. For the town boy: Farm labor, farm skills, approved farm practices and farm shop. Each boy is expected to do some of these forms.

The senior class will begin studying the different seeding and cultivating machinery at A. W. Walker & Son's at South Paris.

The Junior class will begin studying the dusting of apple trees and will use a small hand machine which has been purchased for this work.

The freshmen will take up the study of hot bed constructions and the making of vegetable garden plans.

At the senior class meeting, it was decided that all class parts except two, the Class Will and second essay, would be given at graduation. The class will and essay are to be given at last chapel.

Vincent Ashton was elected by vote of the class to give the address to the seniors.

Selections for the various roles in the cast of "Springtime," the big musical show, which is to be staged here at the Norway Opera House, under the auspices of the High School have been progressing rapidly. Norway is being scoured for the best dramatic and musical talent; and, from the success reported by the talent committee, the show promises to be the best of its kind ever produced here. The professional director, sent here by John B. Rogers Producing Company, is expected to arrive about May 12, at which time the actual rehearsals will begin.

The following typewriting awards were won in March:

Melverda Robbins of the Junior class wrote with the highest accuracy, net words, 32, with no errors.

Martha Smith of the Junior class wrote with the highest speed, net words, 40, with no errors.

Loren Pride: "Has anyone seen Bucky's pudle-jumper? It is a stripped down Ford painted yellow and everyone knows it. It got away from me Friday morning, knocked Bucky down, ran over him, then crossed the road to Dr. Easton's and headed for the village. Maud Decoster saw it going past their house. Where is it?"

Norway Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 16 will work the 3rd degree next Tuesday night, April 5th. Supper will be served at 6:30 All visiting brothers are invited to be present.

Joseph Kingsbury has returned from Newton Center, Mass., where he visited with his son for two weeks. He spent the week end in Woodfords in company with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harley True.

True's Orchestra will play for dancing at the Mothers' Club, this Thursday evening.

A Niagara blower dust gun has been added to the equipment at the Agricultural department of the high school. The evening school of twelve weeks in the department closed March 21, with a large average attendance. A poultry course was taken and as a result eleven electric brooders have been purchased and sold to those enrolled.

M. W. Sampson: "I have 9 motor boats all painted and ready to go into the water and began today on the row boats. Had a letter from C. H. Brush, who says to have everything ready for him for he will be here June 15."

Out Of Active Business

Visits Old Home Town—Stops at the Tavern—Calls on the Wearies and Reviews Past Events, Etc.

Harry Q. Millett of Reading, Mass., son of "Little" Major Millett, and grandson of "Old" Major Millett of Norway, was a visitor here for a day last week. He stopped at the hotel, showing his family connection here as being almost extinct.

He was born in Norway some 57 years ago. Mrs. Granville Reed was called grandmother and Mrs. Widdon Wint Stevens aunt.

He has been "out of town" except to attend funerals, for almost forty years. He was here in 1914 to bury his father and again in 1926 when his mother passed to the beyond. Both parents died in Portland and were buried in the Norway Pine Grove Cemetery with their ancestors.

Harry Millett, during this time, was an accountant for several large firms. He worked for the North Company and H. P. Hood Co. For the latter, some twenty years, being their treasurer and "inside responsible man."

He retired a few years since and is now on a loose-pulley, devotinr his summers to looking after a farm in Litchfield, Me. and winters in shoveling snow and reading the Norway Advertiser at his home in Reading, Mass. He has a wife and one daughter who gets through college this year.

Harry isn't fully satisfied in doing nothing and is looking around the corners for a business other than growing weeds, grass and apples on his Litchfield farm.

DOWN EAST RAZOR THRIFT

The traveling Outlooker recently met a gentleman from Nova Scotia of Scotch descent, who proudly proclaimed that by careful whetting he had made one razor blade endure for nine months. Reporting this exploit to a Norway, Maine, Yankee, he retorted that he had one blade in active service after a year's toil on his sandy jaws. Next!

Swift's Corner School Notes

The following had perfect attendance during the winter term. George Haskell, Arthur Morse, Francis White, Raynold Whitman and Linwood Gatley. Dorothy Gatley and Francis White had the highest spelling ranks.

Franklin Towne is home from the University of Maine for a vacation of one week.

William H. Leavitt is in Portland attending the Shrine meeting.

The Browning Reading Club will meet Monday evening, April 4, with Mrs. Annie Favor, roll call will be answered by humorous sayings. The reading will be by Miss Elsie A. Favor. The program will be followed by a social hour.

The American Legion Auxiliary is conducting its second annual contest in which all eighth grade girls in the town schools are asked to compete. A bronze medal, suitably engraved, is awarded at the close of the school year to the girl who excels in Honor, Courage, Scholarship, Leadership, Service and Americanism. The last-named point is especially stressed and a knowledge of the Flag Code is necessary. Copies of the Flag Code have been given the eighth grade girls and soon they will be questioned upon the correct ways of respecting and displaying the flag. Later an essay will be written upon some subject dealing with good citizenship.

Miss Ruth Bradbury of Buckfield spent several days with her grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Bradbury, Elm Street, and returned to Farmington Normal School this week.

There was a large turn-out at the American Legion dance in Legion Hall last Saturday evening, where prizes were given away. Another dance will be held there Saturday evening, April 2, with prizes and good music by the Bluebird Serenaders.

D. Cromett Clark, "writer for newspapers," Winter Hill, Mass., remembers us with a big soft lead pencil. It's just what we need, if the lead won't break too often.

Frank Beck, horticulturist and gladiolus bulb dealer, threatens to put a sun parlor on his upstairs rent.

Did you hear the poor dog howl in terror and pain last Monday? He had a club of wood hitched to his collar and was frightened almost out of his wits. The hound is listed in the personal effects of Leon Jack and is sociable and well behaved. Fred Cummings would make mince meat of the person who tied the club to its collar, if he or she could be found.

Del Pennock has moved his trucking business from the former John Cummings stable to his place on Summer Street. He transports the mail and has the baggage transfer for Wilson Walker, who will move from the stable, as the part owned by Freeland Howe has been let to Winfield Knight for his auto business.

Several at the Tubbs Snowshoe Co. are having a few days' vacation while business is being readjusted for the summer work. The past season has been the most successful for several years, with a large output of skis and shoes sold.

Fisherman's Passing

ICE WILL SOON BE OUT

"He slept peacefully into death, dreaming not at all of golden streets, gates of pearl and angels chanting hallelujahs, but rather of singing brooks, little lakes, half full of lily pads hidden in the hills, and of slick trotting horses.

"If there be a hereafter and I achieve eternal life, I shall seek him out first of all—no, that will not be needful—he will be waiting for me at the gate, and he will take me by the arm and lead me to some shining meadow where he has found a trout stream and kept it a secret from all the angels."

—Frank Parker Day's Tribute to his father.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS

The Daughters of Veterans held regular meeting Friday evening, with good attendance, and plans were made for a public dinner to be served Friday, April 8th, at Pythian Hall. There will be aprons and homemade candy for sale also. Mrs. Vesta Smith is chairman of the candy committee and will appoint her helpers. The apron committee includes Mrs. Eva Fogg, Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, and Mrs. Bertha Noyes, and each member is expected to make an apron.

The proceeds will help on Memorial Day expenses as the Patriotic organizations will help pay the bills, as there will not be sufficient raised by the town to meet them. As there was no band available last year, the whole amount of $100 was not used and the unexpended balance will be available this year to help along, but with this, there will be a sum to be made up, as the band is reorganizing, much to the gratification of all.

There will be a ten cent supper served at the usual time. After the business meeting the Daughters entertained at a public card party and fifteen tables were filled for various games. All had a fine time. The committee served attractive buffet refreshments in wide assortment and also delicious punch.

NORWAY COMMUNITY NURSING COMMITTEE

An executive committee, comprised of B. G. McIntire, Eugene N. Swett, Fred S. Brown, Mrs. Bertha S. Noyes and Mrs. Harriet O. Brown, has been appointed by the board of selectmen, and with other committee to be appointed later, will make up the Norway Comunity Nursing Committee of the Maine Public Health Association.

Mrs. Theresa R. Anderson, R. N. Nurse Supervisor, from the Maine Public Health Association, was in town Friday, and met with the comittee and outlined the work in hand. She is on the lookout for a nurse for Norway, and this nursing service will be supervised by Mrs. Anderson, who will come once a month to look after matters. The executive committee organized with Mr. McIntire as chairman, Mrs. Noyes as secretary, and Mrs. Brown as treasurer. A medical advisory board will include the physicians of the town, Drs. B. F. Bradbury, C. W. Nelson, W. L. Hasty, I. W. Staples, W. N. Swett and C. T. Pratt; the Dental Advisory Board includes the dentists, Dr. Harry P. Jones and Dr. Arthur W. Easton, who constitute the professional group to which the Community Nurse may go to secure assistance. An advisory Committee and Finance Committee from the town will be appointed later.

Mrs. Mollie May entertained five tables at bridge, Wednesday evening and served dainty refreshments. First prize was won by Miss Mildred Curtis, second by Miss Hazel E. Bicknell and the consolation was secured by Mrs. Marion Heath. The guests were Mrs. Virginia Luce, Mrs. Beatrice Cummings, Mrs. Marion Heath, Miss Betty Hall, Miss Winona Flanders, Miss Polly Noble, Miss Doris Shepard, Mrs. Eleanor Noble, Mrs. Helena Nelson, Mrs. Irene Luck, Miss Tessa Thibodeau, Mrs. Muriel Brown, Mrs. Eva Swett, Mrs. Helen Noyes, Mrs. Verni Edminster, Miss Adeline Decoster, Miss Hazel Bicknell, Miss Mildred Curtis, and Miss Clara Shepard.

There was a good attendance at the band meeting, Sunday afternoon with excellent prospects for at least a temporary organization. Musicians not already in the group can find a place. Young people, anxious to learn some band instrument, should drop in at the next meeting and talk the matter over with the boys.

Mrs. Emma Sargent is hostess for the next meeting of the D. A. R. on Wednesday, April 6, at 7.30, P. M. Short poems on April will be read at roll call and a program to follow will include Reports from State Council, given by Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Libby, and report of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Olive Gerry Curtis of Framingham, Mass, was the guest of Miss Etta Noyes from Sunday until Tuesday afternoon. She was called to South Paris by the death of her uncle, Arthur Clark. Mrs. Curtis stopped at Portland on her return home to visit with her aunt, Mrs. John Horne.

Clarence Buck has started repairs on the Swift house on Paris Street, which he lately bought.

Candidates for the high school ball team are having preliminary practice every afternoon on the lot behind the school building.

The Ladies' Auction Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Sampson, Bridge Street, who has supplied at several gatherings this winter, and as this was an extra occasion, the members planned something "extra" and as a surprise for Mrs. Sampson's mother, Mrs. Martha Whitmarsh, who is a shut-in with lameness, they decided to 'dress up.' As a result there were some marvelous costumes, some from more than half a century ago, others of later years, but none of the flapper type. Much old time jewelry was in evidence and the 'head gear' was one of the laughable features, ranging from the small hat to the poke bonnet. There was more laughter and fun than scientific card playing during the evening. The hostess served light refreshments. Perhaps the affair was all the funnier as the club members are not among the younger people of the village in point of years, and the oldest member at 81 was as sprightly as the youngest. Several, knowing of the party chanced by the Whitmarsh home during the evening, and as the curtains were raised, feasted their eyes on the happy gathering from without.

The express wagon was the first horse drawn vhicle to appear on wheels. This was on March 29, last spring. Wagons came into use in the village, this year, on March 12. At present sledding is past with snow about gone, except in the woods and spots sheltered from the sun.

Miss Bessie Gregg is the guest of her brother, Malcolm Gregg. Miss Gregg has been spending the winter in Massachusetts.

ANNUAL MEETING OF COMMUNITY CLUB

The Community Club closed its season last week with a banquet served by the Rebekahs. There was a business session and officers elected for the ensuing year as follows:

Pres.—Mrs. Lucia Mason.
1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Bernice Wilson.
2d Vice Pres.—Mrs. Sarah Parlin.
Treas.—Mrs. Flora M. Webster.
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Clara Mosher.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Eva Oswell.
Auditor—Mrs. Madge Gray.
Trustee—Mrs. Della Maxim.
Directors—Mrs. Emma Elder, Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, Mrs. Florence Haskell, Mrs. Florence Weeks, Mrs. Harriette Barnes, Mrs. Ada Bolster.

Mrs. Madge Gray, Mrs. Edith Wheeler and Mrs. Margaret Taylor were chosen a committee to revise the by-laws and have new ones printed.

The report of officers indicated that the club had a prosperous year and had done much charity work among needy children of the town, fitting them out with proper clothing so they could comfortably attend school; also keeping the milk in the schools.

A rising vote of thanks was given the retiring president, Mrs. Harriette Barnes, for her successful and satisfactory work the past year, closed the business meeting. There was a social hour, with songs by Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Mosher, readings by Mrs. Taylor, piano duet by Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Gray, and piano solo by Mrs. Burnham, with tea served at the close, brought to an end a very pleasant afternoon.

The civics committee plan a mother and daughter banquet, which will probably come off sometime in April.

Arthur E. Clark

Arthur E. Clark of South Paris died at St. Barnabas Hospital, Portland, Mar. 26, where he had been three days and under treatment for infection in his arm, following an accident in the J. A. Kenney Co. mill. On March 17, his hand was badly injured in a buzz planer while getting out material for himself. It was necessary to amputate one thumb and parts of two fingers and for a time he was getting along well until infection developed and could not be checked. He has been ill and confined to the house a number of weeks the past winter and his strength was much reduced.

Mr. Clark was born Nov. 29, 1854, in St. Johnsbury, Vt., the son of Daniel and Eliza Clark. In his early life he lived for some years in the town of Albany and learned the carpenter's trade with his father, who was an expert builder. He married Miss Francella Gerry, and their nearly thorty-nine years of married life has been spent in South Paris.

Mr. Clark was a skilled mechanic, and as such has had a number of positions. For a number of years he was in the employ of the E. T. Burrowes Co. of Portland, though continuing his residence at South Paris. He had also been at different times in the employ of the Mason Manufacturing Co., and the Paris Manufacturing Co., and with the Tubbs Snowshoe Co., at Norway.

He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow, being a member of several of the different bodies in both orders, and was a member of Mount Pleasant Rebekah Lodge.

Besides his widow, he is survived by three children, George H. Clark of Cincinnati, O., Malcolm G. Clark of Paris Hill, and Marion, wife of Richard M. Millett of Portland. There are four grandchildren. He is also survived by one brother, A. R. Clark, of Bolster's Mills, who spends his winters in Florida.

The funeral was held at the home on Barrows Street at two o'clock, Monday afternoon, attended by Rev. W. Stanley Carne, of Gorham, a relative. The Odd Fellows attended in a body, as did a number of fellow employes of the Tubbs Co. Among those from out of town who were here were George H. Clark of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Millett of Portland, and Earl Renwick of St. Petersburg, Fla.

South Paris Savings Bank

The annual meeting of the corporation of South Paris Savings Bank was held at the banking rooms, Thursday afternoon. The report of George M. Atwood, treasurer, showed deposits of $812,984.86, an increase over last year of $30,150.22. An inventory of the securities held by the bank, as made out by reliable banking houses, showed a total market value several thousand dollars larger than the amount at which the securities are carried on the books of the bank. The total increase in deposits and profits is $35,999.75.

Harry M. Shaw and A. F. Goldsmith were elected members of the corporation, to fill the vacancies caused by the death of Albert W. Walker and Hanno H. Cushman.

The board of Trustees were elected as follows: Harry D. Cole, Charles H. Howard, Nelson G. Elder, Robert W. Wheeler, George M. Atwood, Morton V. Bolster, Irving O. Barrows, George R. Morton, Walter E. Penley, Messrs. Morton and Penley take the place of the late Albert W. Walker and Hanno H. Cushman.

At the meeting of the trustees following the corporators' meeting, officers were elected as follows:

Pres.—George R. Morton.
Vice Pres.—Nelson G. Elder.
Sec. and Treas.—George M. Atwood.

County Jail Inmate Sent to State Hospital

At a hearing in the County Jail, Mar. 29, before Judge Wm. F. Jones of Norway, Vic Fournier of Lewiston was ordered committed to the State Hospital at Augusta. After an examination conducted by County Medical Examiner W. B. Raymond, Dr. D. M. Stewart of South Paris and Dr. W. L. Hasty of Norway, the young man was pronounced insane.

Mrs. Eva N. Parlin

Mrs. Eva N. Parlin passed away Mar. 22, at her home in South Paris as the effect of an illness with erysipelas.

She was the daughter of Joseph A. and the late Sylvania Faunce Noyes, born May 22, 1871. Since the death of her husband, Fletcher A. Parlin, about six years ago, she has made her home with her father.

Mrs. Parlin was a member of the South Paris Baptist Church, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Daughters of Veterans.

She leaves her father, Joseph A. Noyes, two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Powell of Buffalo, N. Y., and Sylvia, who lives at home, one son, Robert Parlin, of Athens, Maine; also three brothers, George D. of North Paris, Maurice L. of Springfield, Mass., and Leon E. of South Paris, who are all the survivors of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Noyes.

The funeral, Friday afternoon, was attended by Rev. E. B. Tetley. The bearers were George D. Noyes, Leon E. Noyes, Albert Ames, and Dennis Parlin of East Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Magoun went to the Central Maine General Hospital on Sunday, where Mrs. Magoun submitted to an operation on Tuesday, for the removal of cataracts from her eyes. It is thought the sight of at least one eye can be restored.

The siren has been removed from the roof of the fire station and hereafter a whistle will sound the alarm, according to a new arrangement of districts.

Organization meeting of the fire companies will be held at the fire station Saturday evening, April 2.

Miss Geraldine Stewart is home from Wheaton College for the spring vacation.

South Paris Clerks' Association will hold the second annual ball at Association Hall, April 29.

EASTER BELLS

The Easter bells are ringing clear,
And Easter Day is bringing cheer,
May the glad news be spread afar,
The Lord is risen, Hallelujah!

O, ring the bells, glad Easter bells,
A joyous truth they always tell,
The stone was rolled from the sepulchre,
The Lord had risen, Hallelujah!

The Easter bells ring joyously,
The truth has spread o'er land and sea,
He was laid in the tomb afar,
But He is risen. Hallelujah!

The Easter bells, glad Easter bells,
What divine truth they always tell,
The angel's face shone like a star,
The Lord had risen, Hallelujah!

—ADDIE LORD, No. Bridgton.

SPRING TIME DOWN IN MAINE

Soon the flowers will blossom in the lane,
And birds will sing once more among the trees;
Hear the rain-drops patter against the pane,
And feel once more the gentle Summer breeze;
Again to look upon the green-clad hills;
At morn to hear the hum of countless bees;
At eve the plaintive calls of whippoorwills;
And watch the tender buds give way to leaves.

—QUEENIE I. ROWE.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE 117

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

SIMULTANEOUS MESSAGE FOR NEW ENGLAND PULPITS

The World Conference on Faith and Order in Lausanne, Switzerland, this summer, will mark a turning point in Christian history.

Representatives of 87 Churches or communions, of many Christian nations, are to discuss the possibility of Christian unity. They are to take counsel together to the end of mutual understanding, by means of "the clear statement and full consideration of those things in which we differ, as well as of those things in which we are as one."

The vision of the representatives of those 87 denominations, comprising in their membership more than 200 millions of Christian people of many tongues, fires the imagination, and forces us to have faith that God's specialty is the impossible!

This Conference is called in the profound conviction that the Christian communions are ready to set aside many denominational prejudices and barriers to united action; and to work together on the simple basis of Christian discipleship.

Have we faith to accept the challenge of that vision? Have we the courage to commit ourselves to it, and work to bring it to pass?

On a certain bridge over which troops passed was a sign saying that "troops crossing this bridge must break step." The impact of the rhythmic tread of troops keeping step would overstrain the bridge; whereas, the same number, not in step, would do no harm!

What a parable of the power of united action—of being in step! The Lausanne Conference is a call to the Churches of the world to get into step!

HARRISON

Pomona Sewing Circle—Supper at Grange Hall—Freelove-Dingwell Wedding.

The village schools closed Friday for three weeks. Miss Eva Jones is at her home in Naples and Miss Anne Chadbourne at her home in Bridgton.

Dorothy Whitney, who teaches in Edes Falls is enjoying several weeks' vacation at her home on Main St.

Pomona Sewing Circle met recently with Mrs. B. W. Harmon. Last week with Mrs J. P. Blake. Much work is being accomplished toward the annual fair to be held later.

The ladies of Lakeside Grange served a delicious supper on Wednesday evening. A large crowd was present and an entertainment followed given by the Intermediate school under the direction of Beatrice Wyman They were assisted by a piano solo, by Araminta Lapham, harmonica duet by Lewis Merrill and William Stevens and an orchestra, piano, Frances Burnham, violin, Hollis H. Caswell and Franklin Burnham, cornet, Mr. Rollins. Dancing followed with music by this orchestra. Mrs. D. H. Green was in charge of the supper. The elimination waltz was won by Kathleen Libby of this town and Zody Bibiuc of Bridgton Academy.

B. W. Harmon returned Friday from Portland and Augusta. He visited his daughter, Mrs. Lida Carsley, at the Maine State Hospital and her friends are pleased to learn that she is making a good recovery and is much better.

Hazel Burnham has been ill with tonsilitis at her home on Main St.

G. Harrington Flint, who has spent several months with friends in Guilford is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Flint on High St.

Mr and Mrs. J. Harvey Pitts have engaged the Jewett bungalow, which they will occupy at at present. Mr. Pitts has a position as salesman for the Buick Co. of Norway.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Jewett of Portland, were in town, Friday and Saturday, the guests of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Woodman Charles last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Edson of South Harrison were visitors recently at his sister's, Mrs. Louise Foster's, on School St.

J. Wallace Caswell recently spent a week with his daughter, Mrs Richard Gough in Portland.

Lester Caswell of Portsmouth, N. H. and Helen Caswell, a teacher in Oxford Grammar School are spending the week with their father, J. Wallace Caswell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ward have been entertaining their daughter, Edith Ward of Portland. Mrs. Ward has been ill and in care of a physician.

Friends in this vicinity were pleased to hear of the marriage on March 6th, of Alvin Freelove, formerly of North Bridgton, and Ruth Dingwell of Portland. They were married at Orlando and spent their honeymoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Edgerly at West Palm Beach and Miami. Mr. Edgerly and Mr. Freelove have a fine store in Orlando and Mr. Freelove, who is in charge, plans to make his home there and will not come north this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Edgerly leave West Palm Beach the first of April and will stop at Orlando for a time before coming north.

KEZAR FALLS

Mirth and Merriment

An entertainment entitled, "Mirth and Merriment" was given at the Knights of Pythias Hall on the evening of March 25th, the proceeds to be divided between Porter High School and the Carl Milliken school, and to be used for the improvement of the school grounds. W. M. Chellis served as stage manager and announcer and performed his part to perfection with the following program:

Opening Number, selection by "Charlie and his Gang," Charles Mitchell, conductor; John W. Garner, saxophone; Bertrand Huber, violin; Harry A. Merrifield, saxophone; Theodore Fox, trumpet; Myron Ridlon, horn; Mrs. Roland Stanley, piano.

A chorus of thirty-eight voices rendered a delightful medley of popular airs.

A male quartette comprising W. T. Norton, Gordon West, B. F. Ridlon and Orion Stanley sang "Kentucky Babe" and for an encore, "Hello," Mrs. W. T. Norton at the piano.

"The Death Disk," Mrs. Lawson Bradeen held the audience spellbound.

John F. Ridlon played on his violin, a number of favorite old-time pieces.

Maurice Durgin, one of our local comedians, gave a very clever exhibition of the Charleston.

A ladies' quartette, Mrs. Bertrand Huber, Mrs. Elwood Elliott, Mrs. Frank Emery and Mrs. Chauncey Cutting sang very delightfully "Have a Smile" and "Those Good Old Times."

"Charlie" left his Gang behind and played two mandolin solos, "Barcarola" and an encore.

The "Gang" entertained again with "Glad Days," a more difficult selection, which they played extremely well.

Mrs. Frank Emery, who is a prime favorite sang "Fallen Leaf" and for encore a humorous little song, "He Met Her on the Stair."

The Male Quartette favored us again, giving us "April Eyes" and "Don't Count Your Chickens Before They're Hatched."

Duet by Charles Mitchell and John W. Garner. Charles, the leader of the orchestra, with his mandolin, and John, the youngest member with his saxaphone. They played "Aloha Oe"

Mrs. Lawson Bradeen's second reading was "Life's Play of Broken Hearts" and was as thrilling as the first.

This time the Orchestra selected a stirring march.

Little Virginia Smith, the youngest of the entertainers, skillfully found her way through the intricacies of the Charleston.

The ladies' quartette, and they looked stunning, blue trousers, white coats, straw hats, black faces and various and sundry red ribbon bows, sang "Who Discovered Dixie?" and "Neber You Mind, Ma Honey."

The Girls' Glee Club of Porter High School, under the direction of Miss Mildred Stanley, presented the Dolls' Shop, a pleasing musical number, with the girls dressed as dolls.

Ten young men were corralled by E. W. Sawyer to present the farce, "Dixie." The following are their names: Bertrand Huber, Samuel Watkins, Robert Fox, Allen F. Garner, Orion Stanley, John W. Garner, Percy Smith, Donald Huntress, Harry Merrifield, Maurice Durgin. The chorus closed the program by singing a number of familiar songs, the audience joining in and agreeing each with the other that the entertainment was the "best ever."

OXFORD—FORE STREET

Chickens Arrived from Philadelphia—Signs of the Springtime—Alvin Lovejoy Returned to His Home.

The Adventist Mission Society met with Mrs. Mildred Twitchell, Wednesday afternoon, March 23. Those present were Mrs. Chestina Twitchell, Miss Chestina Twitchell, Flora Cummings, Mary Twitchell and the hostess. A profitable afternoon was spent, sewing and crocheting for the good of the cause. Light refreshments were served by Miss Mary Twitchell and pleasant entertainment given by Master James Twitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Twitchell have 500 baby chickens that came by post from Philadelphia, March 23. They were warmly received in place previously prepared and all promises well.

Flora Cummings returned to her home Monday, March 21, after a seven weeks' stay in South Paris and vicinity.

Fine "doing" over the cement road for autos and we notice the Portland, Norway and South Paris Express truck has pulled through despite the frost and mud encountered between places.

Miss Chestina Twitchell is taking music lessons of Mrs. H. L. Horne, Norway.

Ai, Oscar, Will and Elmer Twitchell are the crew with the saw, cutting up the yearly woodpiles along the way.

The birds have been singing to us for two weeks and we are looking to see The Keller House, The Pines, Green's Cottage, The Wilson Summer Home and other houses along the street that have been closed this winter, open up and be alive with summer residents.

Frank Wilson and wife (Iva Allen) work in Auburn Shoe shop but get home for the week ends, when not advisable to come by auto, they come by rail, even walking part way when necessary. Mrs. Allen has tomato plants well underway, pretparatory for their garden.

Alvin Lovejoy is in his home now after spending the winter at Ira Harriman's. We expect to soon see Alvin going by with boxes and boxes of aster plants, tomato plants, pansies and the usual array of green hot house supplies that he has such demands for every season.

PIGEON HILL

Miss Rosana Santan of Canada is visiting her sister, Mrs. Cecil Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Appleby of Woodstock were recent guests of their sister, at White Mountain View Farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernal Thurlow.

Mrs. Charles Jordan is ill with laryngitis.

Miss Irene King, after three weeks vacation, has returned to her teaching at West Poland.

Charles Holt, who works for A. D. Thayer, with his family, is taking a few days vacation in North Norway and Gardiner.

James Hayes of New York is visiting his mother, Mrs. John Carpenter.

On March 23rd a little daughter, Evis Winfred, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thurlow are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, at Woodstock, Monday, Mar. 21st.

Charles Jordan lost one of his registered Jersey cows, Friday; she died with pneumonia.

Herbert Mayberry is working for Chas. Denning, sawing wood.

Mrs. John Carpenter entertained the Pigeon Hill Club, on Thursday, March 24. It will meet with Mrs. C. K. Denning, April 7.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

Schools Having Three Weeks Vacation—Pleasant Time at Grange Hall.

Schools in town closed Friday for a three weeks' vacation, Miss Frasier going to her home in Lisbon Falls and Miss Merrill to her home in Sweden.

Melvin Merrow of South Harrison was a week end guest of Miss C. S. Cook.

Celia Butters and two children, Arlene and Arthur, have been spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hancock.

Several of the Masons from this lodge attended the funeral of Mr. Mayberry last Saturday afternoon. Norton Jillson took them in his bus to Casco.

The many friends of Mrs. Fred Bolster are glad to hear she is gaining.

Percy Grover, who dropped a stitch in his back, last week, is able to be up town with the aid of a cane.

Will Carsley and wife of Winthrop, Mass., are making Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weston a few days visit.

Charles Lombard is spending a few days with his parents, at Yarmouth.

Charles Walker and wife spent the day, recently, at Hotel Weston.

The supper and entertainment, which was held at the Grange Hall, Saturday night, was very well attended. A short program, under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca Shedd and Ethel Skillings, assisted by Josephine Caswell, was enjoyed, after which a dance and sociable followed. Music by Albert Culwett with his accordeon. A good sum will swell the fund for improving the inside of the Hall. The program was as follows: The curtain rises on an Indian scene in the forest, with the campfire brightly burning. Beside the wigwams were Rainbow, impersonated by Josephine Caswell and Kathleen Jillson as Arrah Wanna, very charming in elaborate costumes, carrying bows and arrows. Harry Skillings and Norton Jillson, with their tomahawks, were the Big Chiefs, surrounded by Elizabeth Edwards and Julia Lord as Indian maids, and Norman Mills and Wyman Lord as Indian warriors. Two Indian songs were sung and a war dance given by the tribes. Second, a short sketch, "Going Somewhere," representing the narrow gauge with Mary and Philetus taking their first trip to Chicago, losing their tickets, umbrella, cold tea, etc. Third, a musical reading, "The Songs Mother Sang," given by Josephine Caswell, encore. Fourth, Musical feature by a group of Irish lads and lassies making the trip to Tipperary, encore. "My Wife's Gone to the Country," but she came back just in time.

Charles Sumner Cook of Portland has been a guest of his sister, Miss C. S. Cook, at the Cook homestead. He thought it was nearly summer when he left Portland, but changed his mind before he got to Bolster's Mills.

Stuart Skillings was a dinner guest of his mother, Mrs. George Skillings, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grover are keeping house for Norman Mills and helping with the care of little Mark.

Jason Scribner is having the inside of his house painted and papered. Leon Bovee is doing the work.

NORWAY CENTER

Albert Knightly is spending the week at his home.

Mrs. Howard Heath and son, Cecil, of North Norway, spent Sunday at Alice Watson's.

A large number attended the supper at the vestry, Saturday evening. A short program consisted of readings and music. Games were enjoyed and everyone had a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwinal Tyner of Mechanic Falls were at A. L. Wyman's, Sunday.

A lot of young folks these days who do not know where they are going, apparently haven't the time to stop and inquire.

The Assessors of the Town of Norway hereby give notice to all persons liable to taxation in said town that they will be in session at the office of the Assessors in said Town, on the first day of April, at ten o'clock in the forenoon for the purpose of receiving lists of the polls and estates taxable in said town.

All such persons are hereby notified to make and bring to said Assessors true and perfect lists of their polls and all their estates, real and personal, not by law exempt from taxation, which they were possessed of, or which they held as guardian, executor, administrator, trustee or otherwise, on the first day of April, 1927 and be prepared to make oath to the truth of the same.

When estates of persons deceased have been divided during the past year, or have changed hands from any cause, the executor, administrator or other persons interested, are hereby warned to give notice of such change, and in default of such notice, will be held under the law to pay the tax assessed, although such estate has been wholly distributed and paid over.

Any person who neglects to comply with this notice will be DOOMED to a tax according to the laws of the State, and be barred of the right to make application to the Assessors or County Commissioners for any abatement of his taxes, unless he offers such list with his application and satisfies them that he was unable to offer it at the time hereby appointed.

GEORGE F. HATHAWAY
FRED G. DUNN,
H. ARTHUR ROBBINS,
Assessors.

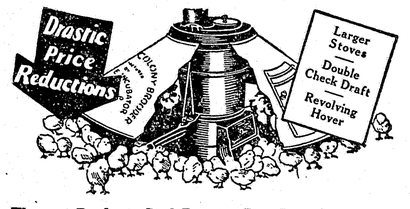
Improved Buckeye Coal-Burning Brooders



The new Buckeye Coal-Burning Brooders give you the greatest values ever offered. The prices are drastically reduced. The brooders are improved. If you have lost money having your chicks getting chilled; if you have had trouble watching and coaling your brooder; if you have had the fire go down or go out on cold nights, by all means come to our store and let us tell you how Buckeye stops all this trouble and prevents the losses.

The new Buckeye stoves are larger. They hold more coal. They give more heat. They burn soft coal or hard coal longer with one fueling. And the Double Check Draft regulates the fire with greater efficiency. The new Revolving Hover saves time, work and bother. Every attention can be given the brooder without raising the hover or disturbing the chicks.

But let us show you all the Buckeye features. Come in today and we will show you how Buckeye saves you money, saves work and saves the lives of your chicks.

Look Out for Paint

Getting things mixed about painting a boat and making love to a city stenographer on a country farm, provided action for the three act comedy staged at Association Hall, Friday evening, by Arthur S. Foster Post, American Legion.

The title "Look Out for Paint" suggested a story that introduced rural comedy characters. The fact that two girls fell hard for a matrimonial advertisement and corresponded with the same fellow, brought complications in the quiet household. To crawl out of the entanglements, a joke was sprung on a boat painter, who for a tip, impersonated an artist, a victim of the matrimonial agency. Everybody was all mixed up in the deal, making a terrible state of affairs until the joke was explained.

Herbert Woodworth was "Hiram Rodney," owner of the farm and hard hit by the joke. Mrs. Frances Maxim as his wife, "Susan Rodney" was an accessory before the fact. Barbara Gray impersonated "Helen Rodney," a love sick country girl infatuated with an artist and responsible for the painting joke. Henry West appeared as "Percy Heartache" the artist and one of the conspirators. Ida Card was "Hattie Remick", the city stenographer on the farm to fulfill an appointment with her matrimonial prospect. Shortly the boat to be painted caused the mixup. Lawrence Brown appeared in the picture as "Trotwell Roamer", tramp painter and leading man in the joke perpetrated on the stenographer. Mrs. Bertha Abbott was "Widow Lucinda Wheatcraft" an inquisitive neighbor and after a man. Clifford Dumas played "Hickory Higgins", a bashful farmer with some real land a good catch. He went to the farm to buy a cow, but left the place with a widow in tow. W. H. Harriman was "Bill, the chore boy" and one of the kind having all sorts of trouble come his way.

The Bluebird serenaders played between the acts and for the dance that followed the play. Miss Emma West rendered two solos for a specialty between the second and third act. Miss Frances West at the piano.

There was a good attendance at the show and dance.

Rev. Orrell E. Bryant of Mechanic Falls has been called to the South Paris Universalist church. It is understood he will accept, and ask for ordination to the ministry of the Universalist denomination, having in the past served in Methodist churches.

The men of Deering Memorial Church served a supper in the vestry, Thursday evening to a large patronage. An entertainment that followed, included selections by a trio: Miss Edith Lowell, piano, Alfred Cota, violin, Allie Cota, cornet. A piano duet was rendered by the Misses Edith Lowell and Frances West, and Miss Emma West gave two readings with piano accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farnham entertained the "66" club at their home with the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Conant, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Munce, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Barnes, Miss Hazel Miller, Miss Ruth Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Roland French, E. S. Jones and Edward Grant.

Mr. Abbott is assistant manager of the Liggett store in Newton, Mass., and a registered druggist in both Maine and New Hampshire. Miss Reed is a graduate of Nasson Institute at Springvale, and is employed in the Dartmouth National Bank at Hanover.

Miss Emma Haskell of Auburn has been visiting her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Haskell.

Robert Brackett has been chosen to represent Deering Memorial Church at the Young People's Conference in connection with the Maine Annual Methodist Conference at Lewiston. William Wright is alternate.

J. L. Chamberlain Auxiliary to the Union Veterans of the Civil War held the regular meeting, Thursday evening. An invitation from the American Legion adn Auxiliary to a supper and entertainment at I. O. O. F. Hall on April 12, was accepted.

The musical comedy, "Kathleen," staged under the direction of K. E. Kostalecker of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., as a benefit for the high school Athletic Association will be given April 1 and 2 at Association Hall. Over one hundred students take part. Special costumes and scenery are featured.

A two-story building for a show room and storage of accessories is being put up by the O. K. Clifford Co. This adjoins their garage on Park Street beyond the concrete bridge.

Annette, aged two years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton S. Fuller, has been treated for a mastoid abscess at Central Maine General Hospital. She was taken there by her parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Conant of Buckfield, and serious trouble was found.

Two young fellows had their first swim of the season in the Little Androscoggin River on March 27. One plunge in the ice water satisfied all cravings to force the summer program.

Mrs. W. S. Chandler visited her daughter, Mrs. Oscar D. Doughty, at West Paris, on Sunday. Milford Chandler was there for a short time, making the trip on a bicycle over the new cement road.

Hamlin Lodge, K. of P., holds its last dance for the season in their hall, Wednesday evening, April 6. Several radio sets will be given away to properly celebrate the event. Music will be furnished by the Bluebird Serenaders of Norway.

Edward Bean commenced Monday on a summer job at the Triangle Oil Co., operated by Cole & Doran.

Gleanings From Attending Farm Bureau Meetings

"Most men attend a Farm Bureau and Extension meeting to learn how the other fellow is doing it and to find out some of the reasons for success or failure. Then they go home and put into practice some of the things they saw or learned at the meeting," said R. F. Thomas, Oxford County Agricultural agent, after making a summary of the practices adopted by Oxford County farmers as a result of attending one of the all-day farm management meetings held in some of the communities in that county.

At these meetings data taken from farm accounts kept on farms that returned the owner $1,000 or over labor income were explained, showing what combination of farm enterprises paid best and that quality and volume of business were all essential to build up a good labor income; that a farmer must be a good business man to make a farm pay.

Lantern slides, made from photographs taken on these successful farms, showing handy labor-saving devices, were shown.

At the conclusion of each meeting prepared forms were passed to those in attendance who were asked to indicate by a check mark, those things they intended to adopt.

All of those indicating changes to be made have been written to determine what they did, and the summary shows 98 different practices adopted as follows:

Two are seeding down more frequently, one constructed a home made silo, two are taking better care of stable manure, three are keeping skim milk at home, seven are growing more home grown grain and feed, two are increasing their labor income by better adaptation to local conditions, two are practicing cutting their hay earlier, five are increasing their labor income by improving the labor distribution, one is practicing more efficient handling of manure, six constructed handy farm gates, one constructed a feed cart, nine are growing more clover, three constructed dry mash hoppers for poultry, seven are increasing the yield of potatoes by the use of improved seed, eight are improving the quality of their dairy herd by a pure bred sire, three have increased the size of their dairy herd, two are increasing their labor income from garden truck and small fruits, three are practicing the control of witchgrass, two are decreasing the amount of hired help, one adopted the self-feeder for hogs, one purchased a manure spreader for more efficient distribution of stable manure, one constructed a home made lime spreader.

One has installed water in front of his cows, one adopted better planning of his farm work, two have increased the efficiency on their farm by purchasing labor-saving equipment, one has improved his pasture, three have developed a local market two are increasing their labor income by increasing the amount of cash crops. Two are practicing feeding hay to cows twice a day instead of three times, two constructed a corn picking shed, one constructed a low down wagon, one constructed a spray platform, four have improved the quality of their hens by the use of better cockerels and selecting breeding stock, two have improved their henhouses, one has installed running water in his poultry house, three are keeping more hens.

There are still many men who have not reported but, as the summary indicates, Oxford County farmers pick up many valuable points at Extension meetings and actually put them into practice. "Other Oxford County farmers can do the same", said Mr. Thomas.

Ten farm management meetings are being conducted in this county this winter. The average attendance at four meetings held was thirty, and every indication points to this good attendance being maintained or exceeded at the other meetings.

NORWAY VICINITY

PERSONAL CONTACT WITH SEVEN GENERATIONS

Julius F. Fuller of Oxford, farmer, stone mason and ex-ball player, was in Norway, Friday, calling on acquaintances and trading. He is in his eighty-fifth year, eats three square meals every day, and remarkably spry for his years. Mr. Fuller was born in Oxford in 1842, and never had a desire to live elsewhere. Years ago, he was a main stay on the old Pennesseewassee base ball club that kept Norway on the sporting map for several seasons. It has been a long time since he walloped a horse hide pill into deep center field, but interest in the game has not abated. Oxford never had a more enthusiastic side line fan and for years the ex-player would drop a hoe any time to witness a game and root for the team.

Mr. Fuller's mind is keen and alert. He has a distinct recollection of his great grandfather, Nathaniel Fuller, who lived in Oxford, and reached the age of 102 years. Julius' grandfather was Nathaniel Fuller, Jr., another prominent resident of Oxford, who passed away in his 92nd year, and his father was Sullivan Fuller, also of Oxford, who lived eighty-six years.

Julius Fuller is the fourth generation, with the fifth represented by Julius' son, Edward S. Fuller, of Oxford. He passed away about eighteen years ago at the age of 28 years, leaving a son, Harry P. Fuller, also of Oxford.

This grandson has perpetuated the family name and two years ago presented to Julius a great grandson, Edward S. Fuller. There are two other great grandchildren in the family of Philip York of Oxford. Mrs. York, before her marriage, was Marion Fuller, daughter of the late Edward S. Fuller.

A personal contact with seven generations of direct descendents, bearing the sir name, all residing in the same town is unusual and worthy of record.

Mr. Fuller tills a large farm located on the East Oxford road leading to South Paris. He is assisted by his daughter, Agnes and her husband, Dallas Benson, deputy game warden, former proprietor of the Lone Star Wild West Show.

CHANGES IN DENTAL OFFICE

Extensive improvements have been made in the dental rooms of Drs. Drake & Easton, with several of the latest appliances installed.

The work room used by Dr. F. E. Drake for many years has been remodeled into an operating room for Miss Dorothy Noble, dental hygienist, recently graduated from Forsyth's, Boston. The room is equipped with a Weber unit, Ritter chair and hygienist cabinet.

Dr. A. W. Easton has added to his operating room, a new Ritter unit and chair, and air compressor, with all the latest electrical devices for modern dentistry. The Xray department is thoroughly up to date, and there is a constant demand for this help outside general dental work.

With this new mechanical equipment, plus the valuable services of Miss Noble, together with the aid of Miss Flanders as office assistant, the dental office is in a class with city offices and will serve a large patronage

NEW ROD AND LINE

Fay Blake loaned his fly rod to a fishing friend last year. It never came back but was lost from the car. This necessitated buying a new rod and he has done it. Got a Thomas made fly rod weighing an eighth of an ounce more than the regulation special which is so famous among fishermen. He also has a Halford Special E line that is as smooth as a kitten's ear and strong as a moose.

He is equipped for both whale and chubs and expects to get red spotted trout.

Glenn Andrews and William Ledger are home from Bates College during a recess of ten days.

The mild weather Sunday created the spring feeling to get out doors. Many walked down the cement highway to Welchville and car owners burned considerable gas traveling on the new state road to West Paris. Dirt roads and fields are not in condition for hikers.

Hazel E. Bicknell's millinery opening at the Fashion Shop, Saturday, was a success. There was a large display of the new smart spring styles in which hyacinth blue, the popular shade, predominated. Several early spring hats were displayed in the window, where a rambler rose bush with many blossoms attracted attention.

Maddest, gladdest time of all the year —housecleaning—is in the land. White paper for shelves for sale at this office.

Frank Kimball of Freeport was in town Monday, calling on acquaintances. His health is improving as warm weather approaches and he said he feels slick.

Harold Perham of West Paris was in town Monday, on business.

State Highway Police Eugene Stevens, and George Wood changed from autos to motorcycles some ten days ago. Traffic is increasing and there is a desire to "step on her" due to the advent of the restless spring fever.

Prof. Verne Whitman of Laconia, N. H., is spending a part of his spring vacation with his parents on Crescent St. He arrived last Saturday, coming by train as the overland route is still deep in snow and mud. Mr. Whitman is on his 17th year in that city.

Mrs. Emily Knower, a native of Norway, and Miss Dorothy Noble are boarding with Mrs. Mary Bennett on Maple St.

Fred M. Davis has been in town several days on business.

Water Power Question

By R. L. Cummings of West Paris

Editor Norway Advertiser:—Why should Maine refuse to comply with the demands of Mr. Insull?

During the past few years nearly every person having a few hundred dollars to invest has been urged by the agents of the Central Maine Power Co. to invest in the Preferred stock of that company. Many will remember the argument. This is a Maine company to be developed by Maine capital for Maine.

No safer investment could be made than in water power properly developed for the production of electric power. All far seeing men knew that was to be the coming power. We have water power enough to run all of our railroads. Turn all of our mills and as many more as we would ever care to build, as well as to supply light and much of our heat.

The lure of immediate wealth seems to have been too much for the promoters of the Central Maine. That is just what those who have watched such developements could foresee.

Mr. Insull not only buys out the Central Maine but everything in the line of hydro electric developement in this and other New England States.

Who is Mr Insull? Just a man of great wealth from Chicago, owning one of the links in the proposed "Super power trust", that is to be the most powerful of all trusts of the world.

He holds that a public utility commission should act as a court to decide cases between his companies and the public. Col. Smith, of Chicago was chairman of such a commission in Ill. When said chairman was to run for U. S. Senator, Mr. Insull slipped him $120,000.00 to promote such a good cause. Now when summoned again before the Senate Committee for the investigation of such cases he admits he gave $45,000.00 more to two other friends, but refuses to disclose their names as it would be a breach of confidence. Think of it!

Their claim is that by this privilege that they ask, to sell "surplus" power they are benefiting Maine and strengthening the position of the stocks of the Central Maine Power Co.

I believe that a careful examination of the things for which they ask will show that it does nothing of the kind but provides a safe and easy way by which to convey to their own pockets the value of the stocks of the Central Maine. Especially the Preferred stock, as that is of no value in the management of the company. What is this system?

First the Holding Company that bought the stock of the Central Maine, paying $1.40 for each dollar of the face value of the stock. It would be interesting to know just what that stock cost the owners. Such stock is usually distributed to the promoters, without charge. Its value to Mr. Insull as the controlling factor of the company seems to have been very great.

Another go between is the Transmission Company. This company is not a public utility and not subject to the laws of this state. Its use as claimed by them is to buy current of the Central Maine or other companies in this state and sell it outside of this state. These somewhat peculiar facts were admitted by Mr. Merrill, Atty. for the Central Maine before the Committee at Augusta, as follows: Question. I desire to ask Mr. Merrill, as attorney for the Central Maine Power Co., if he knows and if he does not know, if he will give me his opinion as to the percentage of profit which the transmission company authorized by the Smith Bill would ask or expect to make? Answer. The corporation would not be a public utility and would not be subject to any regulation or limitation of its profits. And stated that he presumed they would be large and hoped they would be.

It would seem to me therefore that the chief use of this company would be to take Mr. Insull's transactions where no law or regulation of this state would reach him. Just into the limbo of lollipop land, that cloud island, resting in air. On the thitherward side of the mountains of dope, in the valleys of over there, where state law does not reach and federal law is dim or could be taken care of by those whom he, or some other magnate may officiate that have received his well meant innocent contributions of $120,000.00.

With this inglorious trinity worked by astute corporation lawyers, they seem to me to have a very handy system by which to conduct all profits of the Central Maine to their own pockets until the value of that preferred stock will be about as much as blank paper.

What then is "surplus" power? Mr. Wyman says the 27,000 H. P. developed at Gulf Island is "surplus" power. Then your Deer River and other similar developements would be "surplus" power. Then if Mr. Insull should develope power to the extent of 250,000 H. P. it would at once be available for this "FAIRY" corporation transmission company they desire to create, to transmit and sell outside of the state, (presumably to some such company as the General Electric that is the direct representative of Wall Street in the electrical world.) The Smith bill does all of this. That is what Messrs. Insull, Wyman, Hinckley and others want. They know that when that is done and the power sold outside the State, neither the State of Maine, or the Central Maine Power Co. can withhold that power for use within this state. When the people of Maine surrender their right to develop this power for use here in this state, they have surrendered that which can make us a full fledged state in this Union. They have surrendered the rights of future generations that should live in this state. When these important powers are developed and the "surplus" power sold outside the state, Mr. Insull can set the old wheels turning in such old abandoned plants as those at South Paris, Mechanic Falls and other places and give us such service as our folly merits, at such rates as they see fit to charge.

Where then would be our honored state of Maine? Our legislature that put it over and the flock that followed the Bel Weathers. It would all have been legally done.

If you wish to know what we and our state would be like, get out your Tennyson, read Merlin and Vivine. Consider well that picture where it says "At Merlin's feet the wily Vivine lay." Then the last scene, after the storm had passed, "and what should not have been had been" for Merlin over talked and over worn had yielded and slept. "And in the hollow oak he lay as dead, and lost to life and use and name and fame. Then crying, 'I have made his glories mine,' And shrieking out, "O, fool!" the harlot leapt Adown the forest and the thicket closed Behind her, And the forest echoed "fool!"

In opposition to the advice of Mr. Hinckley and others who claim their opinions to be free of any personal interest, taint, or bial, let me quote from one whose reputation for wisdom and statesmanship stands second to no man, the world over. House of Representatives, Document, 1350, Jan. 15th, 1909:

"Through lack of foresight we have formed the habit of granting without compensation, extremely valuable rights, amounting to monopolies on navigable streams and on the public domain* No rights involving waterpower should be granted to any corporation in perpetuity, but only for a length of time to conduct their business profitably.When the public welfare is involved, Congress should resolve any reasonable doubt as to its legitimate power in favor of the people and against the seekers of a special privilege.*

"The people of the country are threatened by a monopoly far more powerful because in far closer touch with their domestic and industrial lives, than anything known to our experience. A single generation will see the exhaustion of our natural resources of oil and gas and such a rise in the price coal as will make the price of electrically transmitted water power a controlling factor in transportation, in manufacturing, and in household lighting and heating. Our water power alone, if fully developed and wisely used is probably sufficient for our present transportation, industrial, municipal and domestic needs. Most of it is still in national or state control.

"To give away without conditions, this, one of the greatest of our resources, would be an act of folly. If we were guilty of it our children would be forced to pay an annual return on a capitalization based upon the highest price the traffic will bear. They will find themselves face to face with powerful interests intrenched behind the doctrine of 'vested rights and strengthened by every defense that money can buy and the ingenuity of corporation lawyers can devise.The great corporations are acting with foresight, singleness of purpose, and vigor to control the water power of the country. They pay no attention to state boundaries and are not interested in constitutional law affecting navigable streams except as it affords what has been aptly called a 'twilight zone' where they find a convenient refuge from any regulation whatever by the public."

In closing this letter, let me say to (Uncle Lem) whom I do not happen to recognise, (probably would if I saw him) when he asks, "Who is this Gifford Pinchot?" I will say he is the man who balked the Taft administration through the notorious Mr. Balinger from fraudulently granting to the Morgan Guggenheim syndicate, coal fields of Alaska, for which service, he and his field agent, Glavis were duly kicked out. The kick, however had a double action and was one of the factors that kicked the entire Taft administration out and as they were unrepentant let in the deluge.—R. L. Cummings, West Paris, Me. March 10th, 1927.

Lesson for April 3

PETER BECOMES A DISCIPLE OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:14-18; 29-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—Come ye after Me and I will make you to become fishers of men.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Follows Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Great Decision.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making the Great Decision.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Answering Christ's Call.

I. Jesus Preaching in Galilee (vv. 14, 15).

The reason for Christ changing from Judea to Galilee was the growing opposition to Him. He accepted the fate of John, the Baptist, as foreshadowing His own death. The rejection of the forerunner meant the rejection of Him whose advent he heralded.

1. What He preached (v. 14).

The gospel of the kingdom of God which meant the good news of the near approach of the kingdom of God when the rule of God as predicted by the prophets would be realized.

2. How He preached it (v. 15).

(1) "The time is fulfilled and the kingdom of God is at hand."

This meant that the time had now come for the appearance of the Messiah and the establishment of His kingdom.

(2) "Repent."

This meant that the people should turn around, change their minds and attitude toward Christ and accept Him as their King. The message of repentance is one which needs to be sounded out today.

(3) "Believe the gospel." Then, as now, men needed to believe the gospel of Christ.

II. Jesus Called Peter and Andrew to Become Fishers of Men. Jesus called this pair of brothers for service in His kingdom. It is usually best to perform the Lord's service in pairs. This has a threefold value. It makes testimony effective; it provides fellowship on the part of workers and protection of the witnesses. It is to be noted that these men had previously been called to be disciples of Christ (John 1:36-42). They are now called to service. Observe:

1. From what they were called (v. 16).

They were called from positions of definite service. They were fishers. God always chooses His servants from the ranks of the employed.

2. To what they were called (v. 17).

To be "fishers of men." They no doubt had been successful fishers. The qualities which made them good fishermen, namely, patience, bravery to face the storm and darkness of the night, and perseverance, which led them to toil all night though no fish were caught, would make them good fishers of men.

3. Their obedience (v. 18).

"Straightway they forsook their nets and followed Him."

To obey meant sacrifice, painful separation, the giving up of all business interests and leaving father behind. Regardless of the cost, they yielded prompt obedience.

III. Jesus Entering Simon Peter's House (vv. 29-31)

Soon after the call of Peter and Andrew, Jesus called James and John, after which they entered the synagogue at Capernaum, where He cast out an evil spirit. This miracle caused His fame to be spread abroad.

1. A loved one ill (v. 30).

When Jesus entered this home He found Peter's mother-in-law with a burning fever. We know that among the closest followers of Jesus there are suffering ones and anxious and burdened hearts. To all such Jesus comes with loving sympathy and power to help.

2. "They tell Him of her" (v. 31).

This was the proper thing to do. We should bring to the attention of Jesus those of our families who have need of bodily or spiritual healing.

3. He healed her (v. 31).

"He came and took her by the hand and lifted her up." This act showed the nearness, sympathetic tenderness and power of Jesus. At His touch the fever departed and strength was imparted to her body.

4. "She ministered unto them" (v. 31).

This act shows:

(1) That the cure was instantaneous and complete. When Jesus heals there is no halfway business.

(2) Gratitude on the part of the one healed. She thus expressed her appreciation of what Jesus had done. All those who have experienced the healing power of Jesus will express their gratitude in loving service to the Lord and His disciples.

God's Indulgence

God is not over-indulgent. He is too loving for that. Because He loves us, and plans for our growth, He cannot let our faults go without correction. His justice stands side by side with His mercy, and cannot be evaded or left out of account.—Southern Methodist.

Finding Strength

Where shall we find strength for practical preparation to God, except in God Himself.—Echoes.

Watch Elimination!

Good Health Depends Upon Good Elimination.

RETENTION of bodily waste in the blood is called a "toxic condition." This often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. Thousands have learned to assist their kidneys by drinking plenty of pure water and the occasional use of a stimulant diuretic. 50,000 users give Doan's signed endorsement. Ask your neighbor!

Checking Accounts

The use of checking accounts is becoming almost universal in the United States. It provides a record of all receipts and expenditures.

Each check, bearing the endorsement of the party to whom given, serves as a receipt. You can pay your bills at home with checks, and the United States Mail does the rest. With your money on deposit at the Bank, you avoid the danger of losing your money by fire and theft.

We solicit your checking account and allow interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum on all accounts with an average balance of $500, crediting the same monthly.

You can bank by mail with us.

Many little reasons make a big reason—

Suppose the only good feature about a certain roof was its color. Or its protection against fire. Would a single reason like that make it a "good buy"? Maybe . . .

But attractive color plus fire-safety plus durability plus complete freedom from rotting and rusting—all in one roof—those are reasons enough to make it a sensible choice!

Let us show you Barrett Shingles. They combine these money-saving qualities. Our roofing experience is at your disposal without obligation.

We endorse Barrett ROOFINGS

Art: "My wife thinks we chose those shingles* because they're so attractive looking!"
Steve: "Well?"
Art: "The real reasons, of course, are that they're fire-safe—and will wear like a rhino's hide."

"Your salesman induced me to try your 'AA Quality' Fertilizer this year.
"My corn crop is the best I ever raised. I have used many kinds of fertilizer on this farm but never got the crops that I have from the use of 'AA Quality' Fertilizer this year.
"The fertilizer ran extremely well through the planter and I can recommend its use without any exceptions.
"I got a good even stand on all my crops."
—I. N. Hayden

Keene, N. H., Nov. 23, 1926
"After I finished haying in 1925 I applied 200 lbs. per acre of 'AA Quality' Fertilizers to ten acres and I am sure I cut more than enough to pay for them.
"I also sold and put on a ton for a neighbor who had never used any top dressing and he was so well satisfied I put on another ton for him this fall."
—Frank H. Cole

Fertilizers have to be made exactly right to produce good crops consistently!

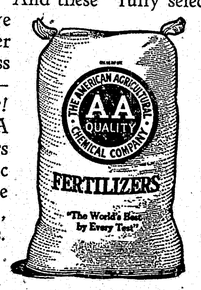
WHAT'S the use of sweating to prepare your land, only to have the fertilizers fall down on their job? Why not use old, reliable, time-tested fertilizers in the first place?

"AA Quality" Fertilizers never shirk. Farmers of three generations have used them with outstanding success. And these same farmers have told us that whenever they switched to less reliable fertilizers — they had a bad year!

Because "AA Quality" Fertilizers are made for specific crops, they produce unusually heavy, high-quality yields.



The accuracy of their formulas has been tested, year after year, by famous soil and crop experts. Their plant food elements give the young crop a good stand, steady, even growth, and early maturity.

The materials used in "AA Quality" Fertilizers are carefully selected, scientifically prepared, completely mixed, cured and thoroughly remilled. Their mechanical condition is uniformly perfect. They have proven dependable through sixty years of record crops. You can rely on them, year in and year out!

The entire school took part in the contest and out of some 150 copies sold, Burnham had 40 to his credit, and Alberta 48.

"Bridgton Tannery" the history of which dates back to 1875, will soon be a thing of the past, as a crew of men are now engaged in tearing it down and each day sees a little less of it standing. The property was purchased about a year ago from the Lyman W. Smith Co., by Claude P. Meserve, and his mother, Mary Meserve, and in place of the large main building, which is now being razed, a large, modern garage will be erected.

Miss Flora Shurtleff was soloist at the Methodist Church, Sunday morning and in the evening a duet was rendered by Mrs. LaVanche Staley and Gladys Dews.

Principal Harold P. Anderson was guest at the Lions' Club Meeting, Monday at the Cumberland Hotel. Mr. Andrews briefly addressed the Club on the subject of, "Intelligence Tests as used in the Schools," which was exceedingly interesting.

Mrs. Ernest F. Doughty is spending the week with her daughter, Marian Doughty, at her apartments in Portland.

Latest reports that the American Woolen Co., mills in Bridgton, will not close has lifted the depression from Bridgton people.

BE KINDLY AFFECTED one to another with brotherly love; in honour preferring one another; recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.—Romans 12:10, 17, 21.

DEER CAPTURED AT BOLSTER'S MILLS

Last Thursday, March seventeenth, a deer walked through Bolster's Mills' village. He came from the direction of the Big Hill and went down the road that leads to Mr. Gay's fox yard. Later he was seen trying to cross the river. The current was so strong he decided to stay on that side. But sometime during the evening he crossed and came through Lyman Sheedd's field to the main road.

Earl Smith and Percy Grover were returning home that evening and saw him as he came into the road. They followed him nearly down to John Grover's house and there he made an attempt to jump the barbed-wire fence. His right hind leg, being injured, so it was of no use to him, caused him to get tangled in the wire. The boys heard him bleat and went to the rescue. Percy got there first so he jumped on the deer and held him until he got help. They carried the deer into John Grover's barn and turned him into a pen.

It seems unbelievable to folks that didn't see it, but he ate apples from the folks' hands that night. He also smacked his lips over some salt. But when the boys moved too near, he just lowered his head and they landed on the opposite side of the pen. He didn't intend that they should get too familiar. He tried to strike, that is, rise up on his front feet in the air and come down on who ever he could reach. That was hard work as he had to balance on one hind-leg. Just ask Earl if the deer can hurt.

Of course no one knows how the leg became crippled. It appears as though the cords had been shortened, so the leg is doubled up all the time. It is a pitiful sight to see him trying to go on three legs. Especially as his hind legs seem to be most essential in running.

The State Game Warden was notified the next morning. He told the boys to keep the deer and care for him until further notice.

EAST FRYEBURG

Ancient Sixty Dollar Bill—Warren Mill Started—Clayton Rowe Returned from New Hampshire.

Enoch W. Pike is showing a sixty dollar bill issued by the United States of North America in 1779, payable in Spanish dollars or an equal sum in gold or silver as the bearer prefers. This bill is smaller than the ones now in use and is printed crosswise instead of lengthwise. It is surely a curiosity.

Wm. Berry and family have returned from a 10 days' visit with friends and relatives in Portland.

Wilton Warren started his mill Monday, the 14th, and is sawing out birch strips. Has about 80 cords to saw. Fred Heath and Charles Rose are helping him.

The mill having closed for the season, Clayton Rose has returned from Sawyer's River, N. H., where he has worked all winter.

A well attended grange meeting was held March 11th, with a good program. The water power bills were up for discussion, quite a number taking part. It is expected that the question, "Resolved That Women Should Pay a Poll Tax," will be discussed at the next meeting if all the debating teams are present.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Douglas have been visiting friends in North Conway, recently.

HELPFUL PAMPHLETS

The Extension Service has just published two new publications which will be of interest to people in the county, one on "Table Service" and the other on "Hatching and Rearing Chicks."

The bulletin on Table Service contains many practical and useful suggestions which the busy housewife can use to advantage to help make the meal a little more attractive without additional work. Good cooking is made to seem better if the meal is attractively served.

In the publictaion on "Hatching and Rearing Chicks" poultrymen will find many helpful suggestions concerning the selection of eggs, how to handle toe incubator, methods of brooding and feeding the young chicks, as well as management on the range.

Copies of these bulletins can be secured by writing to the Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Orono, or from the local county farm bureau office.

SUMNER

Logging roads broken up bad with the river meadows mostly all covered with water and in some places enough for good boating, stopping Lell Poland's logging from the Ragged Jack lot, and the Pingree crew from crossing the river for a time, but they are yarding their birch down from the mountain to the river so that they can haul it in on wheels when the river goes down to normal.

Ben Irish is doing some hauling but it is pretty hard getting around.

The birch mill at the head of Lake Worthley is running to a good capacity. Mr. Waterhouse, the owner, has a number of men from this way, including Lovell Oldham, as fireman, Norman Ford and Omer Farrar hauling in to the mill, and Guy Smith was running the stripper up till March 12, at nine, when a piece came back over the saw and broke his wrist in two places. Dr. Atwood was called early in the evening to Mr. Smith's camp, where, assisted by Irvin Bartlett, the Dr. set the broken bones. Mr. Bunker, who is stopping at his summer home near Lake Worthley, called on Mr. Smith soon after the accident, and the following morning he made another call and this time he went through to P. V. Reddings' store and brought back a very liberal supply of groceries.

Jerry Bartlett is peeling rough pulp at the present time at the Pingree camp.

Mrs. Linn Cole and Doris Bartlett went to Woodstock, Saturday, the 19th, and stopped over night with Mrs. Cole's daughter, and returned Sunday evening.

One of Mr. Chesley's horses got a leg broken recently, upon the Crockett wood lot near Allen Mountain.

Clarence LaFoy, who has been working for Mr. Chesley, hauling birch, has finished there and went to work for Mr. Pingree, March 15, hauling birch with his team.

Walter Penley, one of the Penley Bros. Company, was up to the Pingree lot, Monday, March 21st, and with Mr. Pingree, went all over the wood lot where they they have operated so far, taking up the whole of the forenoon.

Donald Varney recently exchanged a second hand truck for a stable, with Harold Hadley. Donald is going to build a garage out of the lumber.

Edward F. Bryant

Edward F. Bryant, who had been ill most of the fall and winter, passed away at his home here at seven o'clock, Tuesday evening, March 15th. He was born in Livermore, August 24, 1858, the son of Thomas and Lydia Beals Bryant and had spent most of his life there and in Hartford, where he, with his family, lived for the past twenty-six years. Besides the widow, Lovey E. Bryant, he is survived by seven sons and five daughters, as follows, Charles and Harold of Livermore, Morris, of Auburn, Jesse of Canton, Edmund, Ezra and Basil of Hartford, Mrs. Perley Strout of Canton, Mrs. Ruth Chamberlain, Mrs. Ida Dunn, Julia Bryant and Ethel Bryant of Hartford. There are eleven grandchildren. One brother, Edmon Bryant, two sisters, Mrs. Alice Carver and Mrs. Florella Goding of Canton also survive. The funeral services were held at his home, Friday morning, March 15, at 10.30 o'clock. Miss Retha Glover, pastor of the Advent Church of Oxford, Maine, read the scripture and spoke words of comfort. A loving husband and father for forty years and a good neighbor and friend will be greatly missed. Mr. Bryant has served as selectman also of Hartford. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Besides all the children, there were present from out of town, Mrs. Chas. Strout, of East Poland, Mrs. Lilla Waterhouse, of Kittery, Mrs. Edward Goding, Edmon Bryant, Mrs. Alice Carver, of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovejoy of Andover, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Gibbs of North Livermore and Lewis Goding of Livermore. Burial was at Maple Grove Cemetery, Hartford.

See That Beater!

It's mounted on the axle—that's why the John Deere is easier on you, easier on your horses, does better work and lasts longer.

There are more John Deere spreaders in use in most agricultural territories than any other make. There is a reason. The beater-on-the-axle construction has made possible the only vital improvements in spreader construction since the first commercially successful spreader was built in 1878. The John Deere gives you spreader advantages that have been needed for years.

JOHN DEERE SPREADER

The patented beater construction gives you these distinctive advantages:

1. A box 6 to 10 inches lower than others—much easier to load.
2. High drive wheels—4 to 8 inches higher than others—gives extra traction—extra power. Load moves back to beater on rollers—saves the horses.
3. The simplest spreader built—no clutches; no chains, no adjustments for you to make—reduces repair bills—the spreader lasts years longer.
4. Beater close to ground—does not throw manure high in air—winds do not cause drifting of manure—does better work. Patented revolving rake prevents bunching.

Come in and see this better spreader—there are many other features on it we want to show you.

What Uncle Lem Says

Your Uncle Lemuel prophesies that those who were instrumental in passing the act to abate the big tax on the Maine Central R. R. Company and load it upon the people to pay have dug their political graves. Watch the contest for Governor next year and see if this is not true. He has not slipped a cog yet in forecasting political events. Those who think railroad management economically sound and efficient might learn something of conditions by harking back to war times, the deal made by this government with the railroad companies and especially with the way Henry Ford runs his road.

Jim Reed of Missouri is a great lawyer. dollar libel suit of a Jew against him, he has knocked the bottom out of the case. What a lively time there would be if Jim were President and what an amount of "copy" he would furnish for the newspapers. Being from Missouri, he would have to be "shown" on every proposition but his own.

One must conclude by the way garages and gas tanks multiply that there are big profits in the business but how long can it hold "it's grip?"

It has leaked out now that what beat ex-Senator, Wm. M. Butler for reelection in Massachusetts last year was his opposition to the bonus law. Great is Mellon voting and little is patriotism, when western and southern farm products need fixing or bonus granting measures. When shall we ever get back to the good old times when measures were decided on their merits and accordance with the Constitution. War breeds more calamities than maimed soldiers. The Great World War set afloat a flood of evils, some of not the least of which were the lowering of the standard of public morality and the decrease of social purity. Civic righteousness has suffered a great shock and the scant attire of some women borders on the scandalous. Why will good ladies follow the style of prurient Paris? —Uncle Lem.

CASCO

Grinfill B. Mayhew

Grinfill B. Mayberry passed away at his home on Mayberry Hill, Casco, Wednesday, March 23, after a winter of slowly failing health. He was closely confined for only a few weeks, having been in attendance at the session of Supreme Judicial Court of Cumberland County, beginning Tuesday, Jan. 11, where he acted as crier as for years past. Mr. Mayberry was born May 23, 1846, the son of Porter J. Mayberry and Miss Phoebe Hodgdon of Poland. He was educated in Casco and Portland schools and then married Miss Harriett Blake of Tamworth, N. H., 49 years ago. He was one of the few Civil War veterans of Casco, having belonged to the 7th Maine Infantry. At the Battle of Spottsylvania, he lost an arm, after which he received his honorable discharge. His politicial life has been influential, having served as selectman, assessor, overseer of the poor, deputy sheriff and school superintendent. He was a member of the Crooked River Lodge of Masons, located at Bolster's Mills, Oxford County.

The funeral services were conducted at the house by Rev. Fred Lyman of Naples, who preached a patriotic and civic sermon from Psalms XXIII and Mr. Mayberry's life. Mrs. Iva M. Gay sang "No Night There" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

The flowers from relatives and friends were elaborate, particularly those from "Neighbors" and the sheriff's office, Portland. Mr. Mayberry leaves behind his wife, Mrs. Harriett Mayberry; two brothers, Edwin R. Mayberry of Mayberry Hill, and Fred Mayberry of Lynn, Mass.; three sisters, Miss Harriette Mayberry, Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Mary Jane Allen of Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Ida Mayberry of Norway, Me., and two sons, Roscoe Nelson Mayberry of Mayberry Hill, and Evarts Blake Mayberry of South Paris. The Masons acted as pall bearers and officiated at the burial services in Lakeside Cemetery.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Mrs. W. E. Abbott Home—Wood Piles Being Sawed—Farm Bureau Meeting—Mrs. Horace Allen Scalded Foot.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hill were in town the first of the week, George on business and Bessie spent her time with her aunt, Jennie Plummer.

Mrs. W. E. Abbott came home on Friday, after spending quite a time with her mother, in Norway.

Mrs. Charles Kimball has been ill this week. Her mother, Mrs. Bion Pike, was there to help care for her and the baby.

Gertrude Abbott came home from Albert Hamlin's, on Tuesday, where she has been working for two months. On Friday she walked to Bridgton to visit her sister, Irene.

Mrs. Bertha Parker and Merle spent Sunday with Bert Frisbee's family in Bridgton.

Horace Allen is very busy these days on various wood piles. He is just the right person for the task, for he is very particular about it. Just now he is at work at Mrs. A. A. Monroe's. Charles Chaplin and Clarence Wiggin are taking care of the sawing of the various piles.

Edna Tarbox of Harrison spent Friday at her brother's, Harry Haynes'.

Hill & Marr's and Hamlin's mills have begun work this past week.

The regular grange meeting was held on Saturday. A fine dinner at noon. The literary program was presented by a committee headed by Ethel M. Monroe. Harold S. Pike opened the question, "Who is to blame for the children leaving the farm, the parents or society" very ably. Thirty members were present. Miss Monroe feels very grateful to all who aided her with the program. Special credit is due the children and four girls who so willingly gave their time for rehearsals from the vacation hours.

Mrs. Rilla Marston of North Waterford was a caller at her cousin's, Mrs. Ida A. Holden's, on Tuesday.

The Farm Bureau met at Grange Hall on Tuesday, March 22nd. A fine dinner was served at noon by the ladies. Prof. Wilbur of Orono spoke at length on "Poultry Diseases." It was well attended and found of great benefit to those caring for poultry.

Henry and Fred Haynes are working daily on their mill. They have the dam in.

H. Alton Bacon of Bryant's Pond was in town on Monday to see about supplies for Mrs. A. A. Monroe's bath-room which is soon to be installed.

Annie Bradbury does not improve very fast. She has been shut in for three weeks.

Mrs. Horace Allen met with a very painful accident on Sunday. While carrying a bean pot full of boiling water from the stove to the sink, the pot split and the water went onto her left foot, causing a terrible burn, so the skin came off. Dr. Hubbard was called to attend the burn. Rather hard, for Mrs. Allen has an invalid mother to care for in her home.

Religious services were held at Mrs. Ida A. Holden's home. Mr. Townsend talked on the prophet Obadiah. All were glad to see Mrs. Townsend. Thought she had good courage to walk.

Bertha Hersey had a party and guests present were: Marguerite and Agnes Brown, Helen and Charlotte Crouse. A nice little lunch was served.

Earl Libby has a nice flock of ten chickens, hatched a few weeks ago, under a hen.

Mrs. Cora Callahan called on Annie Hazelton, Sunday.

Roy Lord took a load of nine grangers to North Lovell to an all day meeting, the 16th. There were also two other teams that went, making thirteen from here and three of our grangers live there. All greatly enjoyed the day there and the delicious dinner they served. Here is the list of those who attended: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lord, Rilla Marston, Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball, Annie B. Hazelton, Bert Flint, Nona Grover, Edith Rich, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McKeen, Ernest and Elmo McGray.

There will be a masquerade ball at the Grange Hall, in two weeks.

Arline and Chester Grover were guests at George Hobson's and other friends' from Wednesday until Sunday.

A very pleasant time at the Grange meeting, Friday night. Annie Hazelton furnished the program, consisting of dialogue, readings and tableaus. Mrs. Roy Lord furnished three kinds of sandwiches and pickles and we also had coffee. Five applications for membership were presented, making nine in all for next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cummings of Norway spent Sunday at her father's, Leslie Hobson's.

Clyde Russell of Norway spent Sunday at Elmer Henley's. Arline Henley and Kathleen Lord returned to Norway with him, where they will continue their school.

Lee Lord has been helping his brother, Myron, cut wood.

Elmer Henley had one of the best runs, Sunday, that he has had since he has been in the sap business. We hope it will continue.

Popular Maine Matron Praises Tanlac Highly

Mrs. H. D. Wickett of 139 First Street, Old Town, says whole family takes Tanlac to keep well. Her own harrowing experience taught her to trust Tanlac

In fraternal order activities in the state of Maine, few ladies are better known and none more highly esteemed than Mrs. H. D. Wickett, of Old Town. Telling of her severe illness and amazing recovery she said recently, "It takes a lot to upset me, or spoil my appetite. So when I tell you that for six months I couldn't eat a meal you will know I was pretty far gone. I was so ill I couldn't even take a little milk, and as for coffee, that was out of the question.

"My troubles started with indigestion. Then came dizzy spells which frightened me, and a listless drowsy feeling I couldn't shake off. My nerves went to pieces, too, so that the slightest noise upset and irritated me. I was confined to the house, as I couldn't trust myself on the street owing to the dizziness. I must have tried every remedy under the sun, but none of them seemed to help.

"My husband had been in bad shape and Tanlac fixed him up, so he persuaded me to try it. Other members of my family had also used it to good effect. So I gave it a trial, and believe me it worked! It only took three bottles in all to bring me back to my old robust health. In a little while I was eating, sleeping and feeling as well as ever. Now I do my housework without tiring and I feel cheery and happy as ever in my life. Tanlac is highly praised in our family because we know it is wonderful."

Mrs. Wickett is but one of many thousands helped in a similar way. Over a hundred thousand letters are in our files in praise of Tanlac. If you are run-down from overwork or neglect, benefit from their experience. Get a trial bottle of Tanlac from your druggist today. Over 52,000,000 bottles already sold.

Don't be fooled on house paint!

"Cheap" paint isn't cheap at all!

When you are tempted by wonderful claims, elaborate guaranties and a very low price to buy "cheap" paint, remember this:

"Cheap" paint sells at a low price because it is low in quality—poor stuff. That's the only reason a manufacturer can afford to sell at a low price.

By the gallon it costs you less. But don't let that fool you. It will cost you many times more than good old SWP on the wall—by the job and by the year—because it covers only about half the area per gallon—and lasts only about half as long.

Come in and let us tell you the truth about the high cost of "cheap" paint—why SWP House Paint is the least expensive.

Question Of Taxation

Three Workable Suggestions Whereby Taxes Could Be Reduced With Good Results

By Leslie E. Gibson of Roseville, Cal., a Former Norway Resident

Dear Editor: I read, with considerable interest the remarks of George Morton, in a recent Advertiser. The problem of taxes is one which concerns us all, and being used to the Maine, as well as California, methods, I have made a few observations which might be of interest.

In the first place, California has no poll tax, the general opinion being that there should be no tax for the privilege of being a citizen. If there is a poll tax, I see no reason, as Mr. Morton suggests, why the women should not pay one as well as the men.

One of my main observations along tax lines has been the method of high school taxes. The high schools here have not been organized according to townships, but include several for the purpose of assessments. They are not called Norway High Schools, but Norway Union High Schools! In that way they include several townships and assess the high school tax equally among them. It was my observation, while attending high school, that there were many pupils there from Waterford, Stoneham, and other surrounding towns, who really paid a very small part of their educational cost. Likewise, there must have been many others from the same towns who would have attended if it had not been for the cost of tuition or maybe the difficulty of finding suitable living quarters. The Union High Schools here have large busses, which go all over the country collecting up the pupils every day and taking them home every night. In Visalia they have around $35,000 worth of these busses for their high school alone, and other towns are generally in proportion. Of course I realize that difficulties of transportation would render that system nearly impossible in Maine, but some other adequate system could be evolved. My suggestion would be this: to get one or two towns like Stoneham or Waterford, to unionize, for the purpose of a high school, and to assess the tax in an equable manner, so the high school would be theirs as well as Norway's. Norway having a larger valuation would probably be the best location. If my recollections of ten years ago stand me well, the high school buildings were badly crowded at that time; with the natural increase in population, what must they be now? A new high school building is the only answer. This plan might help you to secure one.

Another of my theories and one which I have seen worked out here in California, is the method of handling the poor of the town. Here is a big leak which very few have ever considered. I haven't any exact figures as to the cost of running the town farm, but it must cost several thousands over and above the production and for only one or two inmates at the most. The others, not caring to go there, live off the town right at home, through the generosity of the selectmen in allowing grocery bills, rent, etc. The plan, as worked out in California, is to have what is called the County Hospital; note the name, nothing there to cause shudders to run up and down the back, because of going to the "Poor Farm." This hospital is in reality a large farm, hospital, poor farm, with little individual houses in many cases, which takes care of the unfortunate in a fully adequate way. There is no loss of motion here, if there are few or many, they are all taken care of in sickness and health. In Tulare County they have just appropriated $200,000 for a new one and a great battle was waged between towns to see which one would secure the location. They are located in or near a city, not way out in the country. I believe that Oxford County could secure one fully adequate for all needs merely from the proceeds of the sale of the several town farms. Have this located in some central location with a competent force in charge, such as, caretaker and wife, trained nurse, regular medical attention, everything done for the comfort of the poor. I dare say this could all be done for half what is being spent now by the individual towns in Oxford County. Then think, too, of how much more is received in the way of comfort in health and care in sickness. You owe it to these people to give them adequate and decent attention which I presume is not being done in nine cases out of ten.

Californians being installment crazy, like every other part of the country, pay their taxes in two installments. Time of payment varies in different localities, but generally six months elapses between collections. A 15 per cent. assessment is levied when a perso fails to pay taxes on the date due. This system largely eliminates any necessity to borrow between collections and results in a considerable saving in interest.

These three suggestions, I believe, could easily be worked out with advantage to everybody, and in many cases, with considerable saving. The County Hospital idea is the one where I believe the greatest savings could be accomplished with much greater benefit to humanity.

I hope you will pardon the length of this letter, and if you see fit you may publish it. I have enjoyed the Advertiser ever since I have been out here and if a week goes by without seeing it, everybody mourns. I also believe you have improved it wonderfully in the past two years and believe you could easily make it a bi-weekly with the wealth of material you have. Give my regards to Ralph Osgood, Walter Chandler, Ernest Murch and the others in the office.—Leslie E. Gibson. Box 536, Roseville, Calif.

HEBRON, BEARCE NEIGHBORHOOD

Rachel Bearce of Gould's Academy is at home for the Easter recess of ten days.

Alfred Martin, who has been confined to the house for the past week, with a bad cold, is better.

Julia Bearce spent the week end at home. A friend, Olive Burrows, of Lewiston, came with her.

Sylvester Pratt of the University of Maine, is spending the ten days recess here and at his home in Oxford.

The snow is most gone in the roads here. There is some auto travel, but mostly on business; there is not much pleasure riding yet.

Ruth Bearce entertained a few friends at a birthday party, Saturday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with pink crepe paper and pink carnation pinks. Victrola music, the radio, cards and dancing were much enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served.

Frank Sturtevant has been shingling his garage.

Mrs. H. W. Bearce, whose collar bone was broken some time ago, is soon to have the bandages removed.

Two flocks of wild geese were seen here the first of the week, flying north.

NORWAY LAKE

Little Elden Hall, who has been visiting here for a week, returned to his home in Farmington, Saturday.

Asa Frost was in Lewiston, Saturday.

Winfield, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Partridge is ill with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Frost spent the latter part of the week with relatives in the village.

J. S. Smith has been papering and painting. George Hill worked for him two days.

Mrs. Lillian Adams and son, Herbert, returned home from Red Feather Farm, Sunday.

Virgil Flood is having some inside painting and papering done. Asa Frost is doing the work.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Annual Meetings and Election of Officers —Federated Church in Prosperous Conditon—Public Library News.

The Universalist annual parish meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at their hall with a supper for all at six o'clock.

The Y. P. C. U. held their annual meeting at the home of Rev. E. B. Forbes, last Thursday. Offieers elected are as follows:

Pres.—Gerry Emery.
Vice Pres.—Muriel Scribner.
Sec.—Ruth Wilkinson.
Treas.—Annabelle Snow.

Postmaster Ellsworth D. Curtis was taken suddenly ill last Friday night with appendicitis and was taken by Dr. Edwin Kay in his auto, Saturday morning, to the C. M. G. hospital, where he underwent an operation. Mrs. Curtis accompanied them. Mr. Curtis is doing well.

Mrs. Olive J. Cummings, her daughter, Lucy, and granddaughter, Zilpha, returned from Rochester, N. Y., where they went to be with her son last fall. They will occupy one of the rents in the Cummings block.

Mrs. Ida Mountfort has returned from West Falmouth, where she went for two weeks to care for her daughter, who was threatened with pneumonia.

Rev. G. H. Hamlin closed his week's series of meetings with the Federated Church, last Sunday. The Federated Committee submitted their annual report at the close of the morning service which was accepted and it was voted to ask Rev. E. H. Stover to remain another year. The church is in the best condition that it has been for a long time. Attendance is better both in the regular morning and evening services and Sunday Schools. Financial standing too, is on a good business basis. More than $200.00 has been spent in repairs in and around the M. E. parsonage during the past two years and nearly as much in the Baptist Church, with a project on for twice that amount to be spent this coming season on the M. E. Chapel and outside painting of the parsonage, also papering on the inside of the Baptist Church, and there have been more members added to the Churches over and above losses in the past two years than in ten or more previous years. Pastor E. H. Stover is a worker and a leader and accomplishes what he starts after. He is a good teacher and interested in the schools and the community. He is a sincere and earnest preacher and practices what he preaches, and many other things might be said in his favor.

Quite a lot are sick with the prevailing cold distempers.

Elizabeth Hollis has returned from a visit to her sister's in Auburn.

Mrs. W. H. Emery still remains very poorly.

Rev. G. H. Hamlin returned from here to his home in Auburn and then on to Bath, to preach at the funeral of Rev. Samuel F. Evans who has died of pneumonia. There are a number here who will remember Mr. Evans, the promising young preacher, who supplied at the Baptist Church for a year or two while he was fitting for the work in Cobb Divinity, Bates College. This makes, with the Rev. E. A. Davis, two pastors, evangelists, from the State Baptist denomination within the past two months, which is a great loss for both men were earnest and able workers.

The Public Library has recently been adorned with beautiful curtains and draperies at the windows. A number of new books are being added now from the Ella M. Bates' book fund and among them is "The Mason-Bees" by J. Henri Fabre. This is a most interesting treatise on the bee family, and is one of many other books by the same author on various other insects.

DEEP SNOW STORY

Bill Brown of Monmouth, Me., is quite a story teller and in speaking of deep snow this winter, he related the following story of his "own experience"(?)

A few years ago the snow was unusually deep one winter and no mail had been received by the Browns. One morning Mr. Brown telephoned to neighbors and found that the mailman had been around, all right. Where was his mail? None in his box for a week or ten days. The little daughter got out her snow shoes one day and went out. By and by she came in with a handful of mail. Across the road is a large barn and on end nearest the road is a martin house. Isabel had gone over and looked into the martin's house and had found it full of mail. The snow was so deep it had covered the barn and only the bird house was visible and the carrier had thought it the mail box. Some snow!

NORWAY VICINITY

The Jolly Club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Charles L. Bartlett. Luncheon was served at one o'clock and the afternoon devoted to auction with four tables at play.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Young gave the Argunot Club a jelly time at their home, Thursday evening. Supper was served at the usual hour and auction followed with three tables at play.

Our esteemed contemporary, The Independent-Reporter, Skowhegan, under the able management of Brother Roland T. Patten, stood seventh in a list of the most prosperous weekly newspapers of the United States in the number of inches of advertising matter carried during 1926, and second in the amount of revenue derived from those ads. This splendid work by a Maine weekly is certainly worthy of congratulation.

Miss Grace B. Holden of Concord Junction Mass., was a guest of Mrs. John F. Swain, and other relatives in town, the past week.

Willard Witham, aged eleven years is giving six hens and one rooster good care at his home on Green St. During March he gathered 127 eggs and 86 in February, most of the eggs are kept for hatching. At present he has five setting hens.

Supt. of Schools, W. H. Edminster, will soon have nearly one thousand chicks for a start in a poultry business. Rhode Island Red is the breed with 250 from the February hatch at the agricultural rooms in the high school, the remainder are day olds from out of town. He is using the equipment which he bought of Miss Mina Jewett which went with the so-called Ella Jewett Cole property in the transfer to the Edminsters. A large electric brooder has been added to bring the plant up to date.

Miss Mildred Curtis entertained a bridge party, Friday evening and six tables were in play. The home was decorated with pink tulips, roses and snap dragons. After the game, ices and other dainties were served. Mrs. Harret Shepard held high score, Miss Agnes Craig second and Mrs. Edith Easton low. In the gatherins were Mrs. Beatrice Cummings, Mrs. Marion Heath, Mrs. Harriet Shepard, Mrs. Helen Noyes, Mrs. Edith Noyes, Mrs. Edith Easton, Miss Pauline Noble, Mrs. Molly May, Miss Winona Flanders, Miss Elizabeth Hall, Mrs. Virginia Luce, Mrs. Irene Luck, Mrs. Ava Wight, Mrs. Annie Andrews, Mrs. Annie Knight, Miss Hazel Bicknell Mrs. Clara Luck, Mrs. Eva Sweet, Mrs. Ruth Huston, Miss Agnes Craig of Portland, Mrs. Louise Wood of Oxford, Mrs. Ruth Shaw of Auburn, Mrs. Eleanor Noble, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings and Mrs. Alma Packard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cummings and Dr. H. P. Jones entertained the Wild Cat Club at the Barker Farm, Friday evening, at an April Fool party. Much suspicion reigned as the menu was unusual and the "April fool" came to those seeking it, in that nothing was concealed. The ladies of the club appeared in old fashioned "togs." There were some "startling" combinations and the old hoop skirt was prominent. After supper, dancing was enjoyed with music by the Orthophonic, kindly loaned for the occasion by Freeland Howe, and the music filled both rooms, so there was ample room for dancing. Those who wished, had a game of bridge. The special guests were Clarence Morton of South Paris, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pendexter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O. Jellerson.

John Lasselle, a member of the fire company, had his head injured in the Witham fire, Friday night. A plank fell from the barn, and the sharp edge struck him on the top of the head.

Mrs. Algie Crooker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Crooker, of Auburn, were guests for the day, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crooker, coming as a surprise for Master Herbert's twelfth birthday and baby Pauline's first birthday. Little Miss Margaret Crooker, ten years old, made the birthday cakes for the occasion.

Houghton Kimball, who is attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is spending his spring vacation with his mother, Mrs. Eva Kimball.

Mrs. Hannah Merrill, who fell recently and broke her arm, is able to be out again.

A state convocation of Oxford Royal Arch Chapter, No. 29 F. & A. M. will be held Wednesday evening, April 13, work, Royal Arch Degree.

T. C. Carr of the Portland police department was in town, Tuesday, investigating a complaint that children living along Norway branch track had been throwing mud and sticks at the passenger train. The engineer was hit in the face with mud, but goggles saved his eyes. The officer considered it a thoughtless prank and not indicating a vicious disposition on the part of the children.

Luck Bros. and their crew started on Harry Cole's filling station at the corner of Main and Pleasant streets this week. Work will be pushed and the place open for business before the summer rush.

A carload of Belgium glass has arrived at the business place of Chas. G. Blake, the first foreign shipment of glass to be brought into Norway since the days of Charles F. Hathaway. It's interesting to note that this shipment is the first Belgium glass to arrive in Maine at the state pier.

Miss Laurestine Foster is home from New York to recover from tonsilitis and abscesses. She had been ill and her father went to New York to accompany her home.

Miss Alma Taylor, Miss Irene Soule, and Miss Ada Reed entertained at the home of Mrs. H. F. Andrews, Saturday evening. Six tables of auction were at play. High score was won by Mrs. Floy Towne, and the consolation by Miss Helen Richardson. Those present were Mrs. Arthur Easton, Mrs. Donald Andrews, Mrs. George Lord, Mrs. W. H. Edminster, Mrs. Effie Lapham, Mrs. Edward Brown, Miss Winona Flanders, Mrs. Floy Towne, Mrs. Alice Skillings, Miss Helen Richardson, Miss Katharine Brown, Miss Anna B. Longfellow, Miss Evelyn Sawyer, Miss Gardiner, Miss Adeline DeCoster, Miss Gertrude Sawyer, Miss Mary Whittredge, Miss Ethel Flavin, Miss Eula Philbrick, Miss Tessa Thibodeau.

F. Wilson Walker has opened the Deering Street garage for storage by the day, month or for a longer period. There are the will carry gas, oil, and free air service. This is the garage occupied a number of years by the W. F. Knight Co., who moved lately to new quarters on Main Street.
